Oakton may not need referendum for campus site

by WANDALYN RICE

Oakton Community College may not need a referendum in order to buy its permanent campus along the Des Plaines River in unincorporated Maine Township.

Oakton Board Chairman Paul Gilson told members of the citizens' site committee at a meeting Wednesday that the college may not have to have a referendum to raise funds for the site because of a $1.5 million cash reserve the college has built up.

However, Gilson said the college may in the future need a referendum for funds to finance 25 per cent of the cost of buildings for the site. The state will finance 75 per cent of the cost of the college buildings.

THE OAKTON board Tuesday unanimously voted to choose the site on the Des Plaines River between Central and Golf roads as the permanent home for the college. The choice must now be approved by the Illinois Community College board and state Board of Higher Education.

College officials had tentatively discussed, before the site was chosen, having a referendum in September to raise money for the site and for the 25 per cent of the cost of the buildings. However, Gilson said, "We might not have to have a referendum. The site is reasonably priced."

College officials have not publicly released any estimated purchase price for the site, which is owned by the Chicago Catholic Archdiocese. However, real estate consultant Neil King said he does not expect major problems in negotiating a "reasonable" price for the land.

The Oakton campus choice received support and opposition from predictable areas on the citizens' site committee. Representatives of Des Plaines, Niles and Morton Grove said they supported the college's campus choice, while representatives from Skokie and Glenview said they opposed it.

EVELYN ROSENZWEIG, member of the board of education of Niles Township High School Dist. 219, said her board would vote officially next week on whether to support the site. She said an informal poll of her board had indicated a 6-1 vote against the site.

Mrs. Rosenzweig warned Gilson that "you may get a lot of pressure on Springfield (offices of the ICCB and board of higher education) against the site," saying, "It's the whole Skokie

Scott's ruling hits townships

U.S. funds for bus services ruled out

by TONI GINNETTI

Illinois Atty. Gen. William Scott has ruled that the use of federal revenue-sharing funds by township governments for bus services may be illegal. But local township officials said yesterday the services will be continued until a court ruling is handed down.

The opinion was issued by Scott two weeks ago but township officials contacted yesterday said a court challenge to the practice will likely be required to determine if Scott's opinion is valid.

Bus services have been started by Palatine, Elk Grove and Schaumburg townships to provide low cost transportation for senior citizens.

Revenue sharing funds, distributed by the federal government to local governing bodies, may be used in whatever manner the local agency chooses, provided the use falls within categories authorized by the federal government.

ELK GROVE'S system has been in operation since December. The township purchased its own bus for the service. Palatine Township's service began this week through the Palatine Township Council on Aging.

Schaumburg Township has also purchased a bus and began service last month.

Rolling Meadows Mayor Roland J. Meyer this week questioned the legality of Palatine Township's use of revenue sharing for the bus system in light of Scott's opinion. Meyer has not allowed

City's over-all crime rate jumps by 22%

by JOHN MAES

Sharp increases in robberies, vandalism, and offenses involving children contributed to an over-all 22 per cent in the city's crime rate for 1973.

The Des Plaines Police Department 1973 report released by Chief Arthur Hintz this week showed total reported crimes numbering 5,295 for the year as compared with 4,357 for all of 1972.

The report showed that although total city crime rates were up, major offenses such as homicide, rape, robbery, theft, burglary, aggravated assault and battery, and arson decreased a slight 1.4 per cent.

There were a total of 2,179 such offenses in 1973, 32 less than the 2,211 recorded for a comparable period in 1972. Minor misdeeds rose 45 per cent for the two years, however, from 2,146 to 3,125.

IN SERIOUS OFFENSES, homicides rose from one to three for the two years while rapes remained even at six. Robberies showed the largest percentage increase in the major crime category.

The 34 robberies in 1972 compared with the 49 last year represents a 44 per cent jump. All but 10 of last year's total were armed robberies.

Better than 61 per cent, or 27 of last year's robberies, however, were cleared by arrest.

Aggravated batteries dropped 20.5 per cent from 211 to 155 but aggravated assaults jumped 37 per cent to 33 for last year, up from the 24 reported for 1972.

Simple battery, not classified as a major offense according to reporting procedures, more than tripled from 27 to 96 while simple assault remained somewhat stable with 41 and 39 recorded for both years.

THEFTS INCREASED slightly from 976 to 1,052, a 6.6 per cent jump, but of that total, 614 or more than half were thefts under $50.

Representing the largest percentage decrease among major crimes were ve-

Legal battle with village may ensue

Elk Grove theater will screen X-rated 'Miss Jones'

by BOB GALLAS

"The Devil in Miss Jones" is coming back to Elk Grove Village, and this time the owner of the Elk Grove Cinema says there's going to be the devil to pay if the village closes him down again.

The controversial X-rated film, once removed from the suburban theater by action on the part of Elk Grove Village officials, will be shown tonight. And this time village officials apparently are going to let the film be screened, although they say they may yet go to court to block its continued showing in the community. In fact, a legal battle between the theater owner and the village may be brewing.

Walter Pancoe, owner of the Elk Grove Cinema, yesterday filed suit in U.S. District Court seeking a temporary injunction, blocking the village from preventing his showing of the X-rated movie, "The Devil In Miss Jones."

Pancoe is also seeking $250,000 in damages in the suit, which names the village board, Village Mgr. Charles Willis, Village Pres. Charles Zettek and chief of police, Harry Jenkins as defendants. Pancoe had earlier claimed he was "coerced" by the village into canceling a scheduled showing of "Miss Jones" last month.

A HEARING ON THE request for a temporary injunction is scheduled for 10 a.m. today before U.S. District Court Judge James Parsons.

The suit, according to Pancoe's attorney, Patrick Tuite, will seek to enjoin the village from enforcing its ordinance, which the suit contends is "unconstitutional."

Pancoe originally planned to show the film starting Jan. 4, but substituted another film after a visit by several village officials, who asked him not to show the film.

Pancoe claimed he had been losing money by showing almost exclusively, family-type films. He said the showing of "Miss Jones" was an attempt to recoup losses so he could continue to show family-type entertainment. Pancoe said that an estimated 7,000 people were turned away during the week "Miss Jones" was scheduled to run, compared to the theatre's usual attendance of 1,500 to 3,000.

"I'm determined we're going to show it this time . . . and we're not going to be coerced out of it," said Pancoe. "It's a well followed picture that was the fifth biggest grossing picture at the box office last year," he added.

PANCOE SAID that only one other X-rated movie made more than "Miss Jones," in 1973, "The Last Tango in Paris." "Miss Jones," he added, "has been playing in Cook County for 10 months without a prosecution."

Pancoe said he doesn't plan to make X-rated movies a regular fare at the theatre. "We've only shown two R-rated films here since August," Pancoe said. "Sometimes, an X-rated movie is all that's available to me," he said.

Some of the R-rated films shown at the theatre include "Deliverance," and "Save the Tiger."

Village officials, most of whom have not seen "Miss Jones," were taken aback by Pance's suit. Willis said the theater would not be closed, but that officials will view the film.

"If we do decide to make a complaint, it will be up to a judge to determine if the movie is obscene and violates the anti-obscenity ordinance this board has passed," he said.

55-mph speed rule effective Monday

The end of the 70 m.p.h. speed limit will come at 12:01 a.m. Monday when a state law reducing maximum speeds on Illinois roadways to 55 m.p.h. takes effect. The new law goes along with federal requirements aimed at saving gasoline. Speed limit for trucks wighing more than 8,000 pounds will continue to be 50 m.p.h.

Township bus funds jeopardized

An opinion from Illinois Atty. Gen. William Scott may jeopardize senior citizen bus services set up by three Northwest suburban townships with the help of federal revenue sharing funds. Government bodies can only spend revenue sharing funds on things they already have the power to spend their own money on, Scott said. Since bus services aren't a township-authorized function, the expenditures are not legal, he said. Officials of Elk Grove, Palatine and Schaumburg townships indicated they will continue their bus services until a court rules them illegal.

Arlington girl suffers burns

Nine-year-old Karie Olson of Arlington Heights suffered second and third degree burns over 35 per cent of her body yesterday when her pajamas were ignited from a kitchen stove. Karie, of 609 S. Highland Ave., was reported in fair condition at the Evanston Hospital burn center.

Tollway use drop threatens ramp

Reduced toll revenue because of less traffic on the Illinois Tollway system may jeopardize plans to build a full interchange at Barrington Road and the Northwest Tollway this year. Richard E. Blakely, tollway executive administrator, yesterday said that if revenues do not increase, the project, which was scheduled in the 1974 budget, will be delayed.

Faces murder-solicitation rap

Joseph Enderle, 14, will be tried as an adult on charges he conspired with his mother, Marlene Swimley of Schaumburg, to murder her husband, Duane Swimley, Jr. The ruling was made yesterday in Juvenile Court on request of the youth's attorney. He and his mother are accused of solicitation to commit murder. They allegedly made a $100 murder contract downpayment at Woodfield Shopping Center to a state's attorney's investigator posing as a "hit man."

Some extra gas is 'already here'

Motorists may not have noticed it yet, but 2.5 million gallons of the 6 million gallons that was supposed to be diverted to Illinois from other states already has been distributed, mostly in the Chicago metropolitan area.

According to the Federal Energy Office senior case resolution officer in Chicago, Don Guest, "You don't feel it because the volume is small, but it helps out."

"I don't like to say where this is coming from, because the people of Ohio and Wisconsin are already upset about smaller allocations of supply," Guest said. He discussed fuel shortages Thursday prior to a speech before an Illinois State Chamber of Commerce meeting in Des Plaines.

"The 6 million gallons was voluntary a few weeks ago. Now we've made it mandatory," he said. "This 6 million is the same as the original 6 million (gallons)." The plan requires major oil companies to redistribute available gasoline supplies to areas such as the Chicago metropolitan area where it is most needed, he said. At best, a motorist would gain a couple of gallons of added gasoline, he said.

GUEST ADDED:

- The federal gasoline allocation program came into being as a correction of "inequities" during 1973 when major oil companies were choking independents out of supply. This is the reason for the use of a 1972 base year for FEO programs.
- No conclusive evidence is available following the FEO investigation of January gasoline distribution, and charges of oil companies' holding back supplies to Chicago.
- The FEO will maintain its policy that prohibits dealers from giving regular customers favored service. "We do not want discrimination," Guest said. No comment was available on the dealers' request for higher profit margins.
- The FEO is using its muscle to prod Exxon, Phillips, Sunoco, Cities Service and other oil firms which pulled back their retailing efforts in the Chicago area during 1973 to arrange for reallocation of gasoline to Illinois, based on 1972 shipments.
- "The oil companies better make this work," Guest said of fuel allocation. The alternative could be more stringent controls, he added. "Rationing coupons are being printed, and this (printing) should be completed in the next couple of weeks."

Free Hearing Tests Set For Senior Citizens

Electronic hearing tests will be given at Beltone Hearing Aid Service offices on Monday and Tuesday.
Factory-trained hearing aid specialists will be at all of the offices listed below to perform the tests.
Anyone who has trouble hearing or understanding is welcome to have a test using the latest electronic equipment to determine his or her particular loss. Diagrams showing how the ear works and some of the causes of hearing loss will be available.
Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year if there is any trouble at all hearing clearly. Even people now wearing a hearing aid or those who have been told nothing could be done for them should have a hearing test and find out about the latest methods of hearing correction.
The hearing test will be given Monday and Tuesday. If you can't get there on Monday or Tuesday, call one of the numbers below and arrange for an appointment at another time. Shut-in service is available in your home. Just phone the Beltone Hearing Aid Service nearest to you.

Bush — a former Daley aide — indicted

Earl Bush, press secretary to Mayor Richard Daley from 1955 to 1973 was indicted yesterday by a federal grand jury on charges of mail fraud. At a news conference, U. S. Attorney James Thompson said "Bush is charged with defrauding the city, the mayor and all of the citizens of Chicago." Bush is accused of obtaining a profitable city advertising contract for a company he secretly owned.

Former policemen sentenced to prison

Former Chicago Police Sgt. Charles Nickels, 51, was sentenced to 18 months in prison yesterday for lying to a federal grand jury about his role in a scheme to extort money from city taverns. The U. S. attorney's office said 60 Chicago policemen had ben indicted for corruption while performing their duties since November of 1971. Of these, 38 have been convicted, 8 acquitted, and action pending against 14.

Kerner: case politically motivated

Former Gov. Otto Kerner said yesterday he believes his indictment in a racetrack stock case was politically motivated. He said U.S. Attorney James Thompson has "protesteth too much" that it was not. "Thompson is saying the prosecution is rot politically motivated and he's been saying that for more than a year," Kerner said, adding: "So he must have some reason to think that it is."

The chemical, vinyl chloride, could be "another Thalidomide" in its impact on the public, Dr. Sidney Wolfe told the congressional hearing.

President postpones European trip

President Nixon has postponed once again the European trip originally conceived as a top diplomatic priority for 1973, White House officials disclosed yesterday. They said the President had decided "this was not the time" for the West European swing he had scheduled for April.

Automakers appear ready to hike prices

The nation's automakers appear ready to raise prices once again on 1974 model cars, despite the opposition of the government's top price controller and an earlier pledge to hold the line until September. On Wednesday John Dunlop of the Cost of Living Council said he did not believe there was justification for any new increases.

In Jerusalem, meanwhile, Prime Minister Golda Meir called in Defense Minister Moshe Dayan and leaders of the National Religious Party to give them another chance to join her government.

Heath mobbed by chanting students

Several hundred university students, chanting "Heath out," mobbed Prime Minister Edward Heath on a meet-the-people election campaign walk through Exeter, near London, Thursday. Police surrounded him and hustled him unhurt to his car. Britain votes Feb. 28 in a general election ordered by Heath after an indefinite strike launched by 269,000 coal miners 12 days ago plunged the country into what he called its worst industrial crisis since World War II.

New kidnaping; new Hearst demands

From Herald news services

Officials were faced with dramatic kidnapings at both ends of the nation Thursday, noting disturbing similarities and confronting frustration in trying to deal with them.

In California, the case of Patricia Hearst took a worrisome turn, while in Georgia, the editor of the Atlanta Constitution — John R. "Reg" Murphy — was abducted by the right-wing "American Revolutionary Army" for $700,000 ransom.

The kidnapers of Miss Hearst demanded that her father — newspaper publisher Randolph Hearst — put up an additional $4 million for free food in 24 hours, threatening that if he refused she would be kept hostage to free two members of the terrorist sect held in San Quentin Prison.

The new ultimatum came in a 20-minute tape recording from the mysterious "general field marshal Cinque" of the Symbionese Liberation Army.

Cinque said Hearst's offer of a $2 million food giveaway plan was "not at all a good faith gesture but rather is an act of throwing a few crumbs to the people."

Naming several minority groups represented by members of his sect, he told Hearst, "You have hunted and robbed and exploited us all.

"Now we are the hunters that will give you no rest," he said.

The voice of 20-year-old Patricia, kidnapped Feb. 4, was heard for about 10 seconds at the end of the tape.

The SLA for the first time directly linked the girl's possible fate to that of Joseph Remiro and Russell Little who are imprisoned and charged with the murder last November of Oakland School Superintendent Marcus Foster.

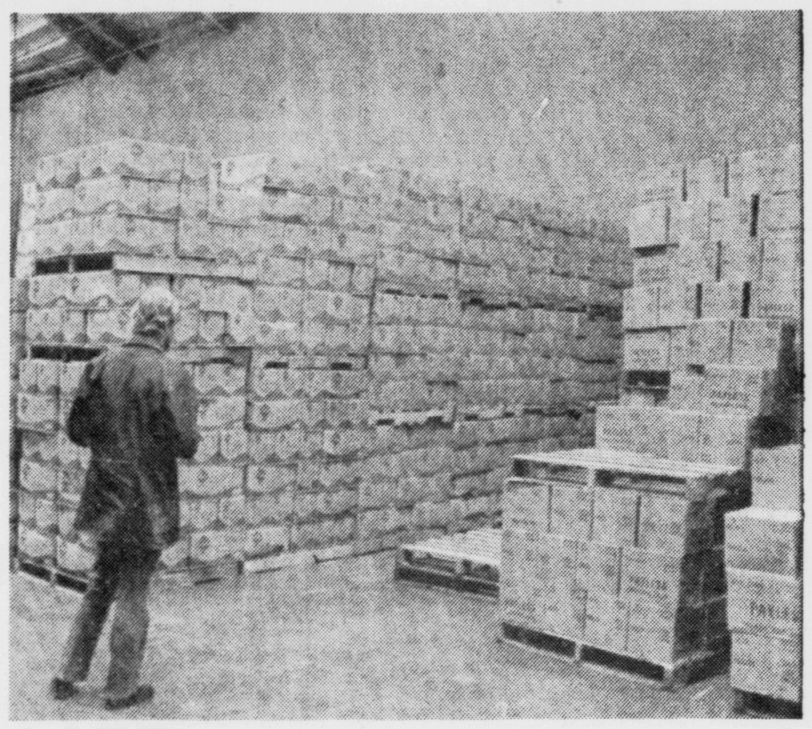
Officials of the Atlanta Constitution said last night a tape recording was received 26 hours after Murphy disappeared from his home.

The long, rambling recording said Murphy's kidnaping had been planned by the "American Revolutionary Army" at the same time as Patricia Hearst's abduction by the Symbionese Liberation Army, but could not be done then for unspecified reasons.

Murphy said the organization was demanding the resignation of all federal elected officials — although not as a condition of his release.

Investigating authorities, including the FBI, said they had never heard of the "Revolutionary Army" which apparently patterns itself after the abductors of Miss Hearst.

Although admitting he is alarmed by the kidnapings, FBI Director Clarence Kelley said he does not fear a wave of such incidents.



FOOD SUPPLIES mount in Walton Warehouse, Oakland, Calif., as details are ironed out for the Hearst 'People in Need' plan. The Symbionese Army has demanded another $4 million.

Walker orders more gas to Chicago

From Herald news services

Gov. Daniel Walker Thursday ordered oil companies operating in Illinois to divert specific amounts of gasoline from their inventories to the Chicago area.

A Walker spokesman said the order, coupled with another issued Wednesday by the Federal Energy Office in Washington, apparently will end nearly two weeks of confusion over a promised six million gallons of fuel.

Walker's order was enclosed in telegrams to oil companies. It directed them, in accordance with Wednesday's federal order, to divert to Illinois during February 2 per cent more gasoline than they originally had planned.

No one yet seemed sure when the extra gasoline would start arriving in the Chicago area — the site Walker designated for delivery.

Mark Clark, an assistant press aide to Walker, said the gasoline might have been ordered to the Chicago area earlier but for confusion over previous FEO statements.

Thursday Clark said it was not until "a few days ago" that Walker realized the Feb. 9 statement from the FEO was not binding on oil companies. After that realization dawned, he said, Illinois officials sought Wednesday's mandatory order.

Seven governors met Thursday with federal energy director William E. Simon and announced that service station operators might soon get relief in the form of higher prices and an easing of the ban on preferential treatment for regular customers.

Gov. Daniel J. Evans of Washington, chairman of the National Governors Conference, said Simon was considering both steps and would announce a decision shortly. Evans said he was "confident there is help coming" on a retail price increase.

He said the Federal Energy Office might also modify its antidiscrimination ban on station operators to permit a special category for regular customers who might buy gasoline at any time and thus not be forced to join long waiting lines with other motorists searching for a tank fillup.

Evans spoke to reporters after he and six other governors, including Marvin Mandel of Maryland, met with Simon in a joint plea for a more equitable federal allocation of gasoline nationwide.

Mandel sued Simon in U.S. District Court in Baltimore Wednesday, charging that the federal allocation system was unfair and claiming that Maryland deserved 20.5 million more gallons of gasoline this month than Simon's office had allowed.

The Maryland congressional delegation will meet with Simon today to discuss the state's gasoline shortage. Simon has been ordered to appear in the federal court in Baltimore today to defend the allocation system.

Simon told reporters he would not appear, but that his case would be represented by Justice Department lawyers.

A spokesman for independent truck drivers Thursday denounced the government's proposal to allow longer and heavier trucks on Interstate highways as unsafe and designed only to help the big truck companies.

"We are not — I repeat not — asking you to allow bigger trucks," Al D. Hannah, president of the Independent Drivers Association of America, said in testimony to a Senate public works subcommittee.

Teruggi Sr. in Chile probing death of son

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI) — Frank Teruggi Sr. of Des Plaines is pessimistic about finding the facts behind his son's death and believes U.S. embassy officials here don't care.

The son, Frank Teruggi Jr., 24, was shot to death under unclear circumstances after he was taken to the national soccer stadium where the military imprisoned several thousand persons after the coup that overthrew President Salvador Allende last year.

Teruggi's father said he had spoken with U.S. embassy officials since his arrival in Santiago last weekend adding that "I don't believe they care, I did not believe it before I came and now I believe it less."

Teruggi said he had letters from Illinois congressmen and senators to American Ambassador David Popper asking for help in clearing up the circumstances of his son's death.

He said he had not yet been able to present another letter to military junta leader Gen. Taugusto Pinochet "appealing to him as a father to understand the sadness he and his wife have suffered."

Teruggi said he would have a final statement today before departing for the U.S. tomorrow.

Dairy lobbyist is indicted

From Herald news services

A Watergate grand jury Thursday charged a milk industry lobbyist with lying about what happened to $10,000 he obtained from dairy interests allegedly to win an increase in milk price supports from the administration in 1971.

The one-count indictment, returned against Texas banker Jake Jacobsen, said the grand jury has evidence he solicited and received the cash from Associated Milk Producers Inc. on his word it would be "paid to a public official for his assistance in connection with the price support decision." The official was not named, nor did the indictment say what happened to the $10,000.

Jacobsen was legislative counsel to President Lyndon B. Johnson in 1965-67 and a close friend of President Nixon's former Treasury secretary, John B. Connally.

Jacobsen specifically was charged with lying when he told the grand jury a month ago he put the money in a safe deposit box and never touched it until an FBI agent inventoried it last November.

The crime carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a fine of $10,000 upon conviction. It was not known immediately when or where Jacobsen would be arraigned.

Elsewhere in Washington, the impeachment inquiry staff of the House Judiciary Committee concluded that President Nixon could be impeached for abusing his powers and violating the public trust, even though he did not violate any criminal statutes.

In New York, the selection of a jury not affected by a 20-month-long barrage of publicity to give former cabinet officers John Mitchell and Maurice Stans a fair trial, moved slowly. Only 15 jury candidates made it through secret questioning.

Welander says he didn't run Pentagon spy ring

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Adm. Robert O. Welander Thursday accused Navy Yeoman Charles E. Radford of inventing his Pentagon spy ring charges and said John D. Ehrlichman had put those charges into a false confession which the admiral refused to sign.

Welander's testimony at a closed Senate Armed Services Committee hearing prompted some senators to call for immediate public investigation of the so-called Pentagon spy ring.

Sen. Harold Hughes, D-Iowa, said that either Welander or Radford must have committed perjury since their stories differed so sharply. Hughes and Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., said they will ask for testimony from Ehrlichman.

In testimony Wednesday, Radford said Welander and the late Adm. Rembrandt C. Robinson instructed him to steal secret White House diplomatic documents for the Pentagon when they were his bosses on a White House military liaison team in 1970 and 1971.

Welander admitted he had twice passed secret material from Radford to Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, under what he thought were justifiable circumstances.

But he denied he ran any deliberate spy ring and said Radford had invented that story to divert attention from himself.

Nixon asks tough drug law

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon told Congress Thursday he wants stiff new penalties against illicit drug dealers, including mandatory minimum sentences for first offenders and higher maximums across the board.

"While our enforcement efforts are proving effective in finding drug traffickers," the President said in a message to the House and Senate, "our system of criminal justice is not as effective in dealing with them after they are arrested."

Nixon said he would submit to Congress in the near future a legislative package calling for a minimum federal sentence of three years, and a maximum of 15 years, for a first offense of dealing in narcotics. A second offense would carry a penalty of 10 to 30 years.

The maximum penalty for dealing in other dangerous drugs would be increased from five years to 10 for a first offense, and from 10 years to 15 for a second offense. Second offenders would be subject to a minimum of three years.

Nixon said his proposal also would allow judges to deny bail "in the absence of compelling circumstances" to those previously convicted of a drug felony; anyone on probation or parole in connection with another felony; fugitives; non-resident aliens, and passport violators.

"We will continue to support treatment and rehabilitation of abusers with all the generosity and compassion which victims of drug abuse require," the President said.

O'Hare jet noise-control plan rapped

by STEVE FORSYTH

Airline industry contentions that noise is being controlled at O'Hare Airport are part of a whitewash campaign, leaders of the O'Hare chapter of the National Organization to Insure A Noise-controlled Environment (NOISE) charged yesterday.

Members of the chapter, including Park Ridge Mayor Martin Butler, chairman, have asked Chicago Mayor Richard Daley immediately to establish an O'Hare noise abatement center that would implement noise abatement procedures in the Chicago area.

At a NOISE press conference yesterday, Butler said there are several approved procedures that could be used right now at O'Hare, if the Federal Aviation Administration would require them and the Chicago Department of Aviation would cooperate.

THE ABATEMENT center would monitor noise at O'Hare, put noise abatement procedures into effect, provide a central location for receipt and response of citizen complaints and provide a professional staff qualified to develop and enforce noise reduction measures.

"We are tired of the false impression by the FAA and airline industries that everything is being done to reduce noise," said Des Plaines Ald. Alan Abrams (8th), technical committee chairman for NOISE.

He blamed lack of action on the "unholy trinity" at O'Hare — the airline industry, the FAA and the City of Chicago.

Programs that could be used at O'Hare include "quiet climb," or reduced power during takeoff; reduced flap angle during landing approach, a two-segment landing approach that keeps planes higher; and computerized monitoring of runway use to distribute noise evenly among communities surrounding the airport.

Abrams said those steps are not new, revolutionary or dangerous and help reduce noise for people on the ground.

WHEN ASKED why the steps have not been instituted if they have been proven and are effective, he said he could not answer expect to surmise that the airlines do not want government controls on their operations.

Butler said there is today no regulation by the FAA requiring reduced noise procedures.

"There is no justification other than its subservience to the airlines for the FAA's continued reliance on 'voluntary' procedures," he said.

Yesterday's conference was arranged by NOISE in rebuttal to Air Transport Assn. statements made at a press conference Feb. 4. At that meeting, airline representatives explained technical methods for noise reduction, particularly in refitting of jet engines to make them operate more quietly.

The two-segment landing approach has been mntioned by both sides as a satisfactory method of reducing noise, but Lloyd Hinton, co-executive director of NOISE, said airlines have delayed using equipment that is already available. Further, Hinton said, they are testing the two-step system on each type of jet one at a time, instead of simultaneously, resulting in a delay of 12 to 18 months for each type. That means no effective relief for years, Hinton said.

THE EXISTING technique of reduced power during takeoff below certain altitudes has been ignored by most air carriers, with the exception of voluntary use by Northwest Airlines, according to Hinton. Northwest has been under pressure by the other airlines to abandon the noise abatement procedure because it slows departures, Abrams said.

Abrams was also critical of the airlines' procedures in dealing with the fuel shortage. He said airlines have claimed reduced noise because they have reduced the number of flights, but they have grounded their quieter jumbo jets to use the older, noisier models. That creates an increase in noise, he said.

Leaders have mixed reactions to RTA

by STEVE FORSYTH

Municipal leaders in the Northwest suburbs displayed mixed opinions of the proposed Regional Transportation Authority as they listened to a debate this week.

Lining up strongly against the March 19 referendum were Mount Prospect Mayor Robert Teichert and Hoffman Estates Village Pres. Virginia Hayter. Schaumburg Mayor Robert Atcher said he is in favor of the RTA bill despite some weaknesses in it, and other officials wavered in the middle.

The conference ended up taking no stand on the RTA proposal.

State Rep. Donald Totten, R-Hoffman Estates, told the officials that mass transit systems in other cities have produced huge deficits — $650 million in 1972 — and faltering service. With that track record, he said, why should the Chicago area join in with its own system destined for the same fate?

STATE SEN. Bradley Glass, R-Northfield, disagreed with Totten's assessment of existing mass transit agencies and warned that the disjointed bus and railroad systems in the suburbs will not be able to continue here without a regional authority.

Totten charged that the RTA bill, once approved, cannot be amended because of wording that protects bondholders. Glass said that protection only applies to changes in the financial base of the RTA that would interfere with payment of bonds.

The RTA bill is a fair compromise considering what some of the previously proposed bills would have provided for the suburbs, Glass said. In answer to a question, Glass added that if the RTA referendum is defeated and is sent back to what may be a Democrat-controlled legislature for re-drafting, the result could be a bill more favorable to the city, perhaps with no provision for referendum.

Totten said he thinks the legislature would come up with a better bill next time, regardless of the party in control.

ELK GROVE Village Pres. Charles Zettek criticized legislators who say they cannot pass another bill. "Is this the end of acceptable legislation downstate?" he asked.

Glass said he would work for another bill if necessary, but his concern is the time involved to work it out, which could mean a delay of up to five years in formation of a new regional authority.

Since the board members are appointed, how do you remove them from office, one mayor said.

Neither speaker had an answer, but Glass said it was felt that the method of appointment (through county boards) and the two-thirds voting requirement on major issues are sufficient safeguards.

Although the RTA would have control over federal transportation fund applications in the six-county area, Glass said, that would not jeopardize municipalities that use federal revenue sharing funds for local transit subsidies, because revenue sharing is not on a grant basis.

TOTTEN SAID a suit has been filed by the League of Women Voters challenging the right of municipalities to use revenue sharing funds for mass transportation.

Mrs. Hayter challenged the validity of compromises that led to the RTA bill.

"You can tell Gov. Walker and Mayor Daley they took all the worst parts and pasted them together," she said. "Psychologically, you're doing a dangerous thing. You're saying you shouldn't have the right to have an auto, and for people in this country, especially men, freedom is an automobile."

THINGS YOU MAY NOT KNOW ABOUT CONSERVING ELECTRICITY.

Close the gaps and cut your heating cost.

Heat escapes your living area and cold outside air enters through openings, big and little. The gap can be as wide as an open front door or as small as a ceiling opening around a light fixture. Whatever the leak, your heat system has to work harder to maintain your desired indoor temperature. Wherever you can close a gap, you save on fuel.

Install storm windows or double-pane glass to cut the heat loss through windows. Weather-strip all joints and caulk the frames of windows and doors. Also seal spaces where heated air can escape into the attic.

A good fireplace chimney can draw off up to 20 percent of heated air from the house during one hour. Close the chimney damper tightly when it's not in use.

And, of course, keep doors to the outside, the garage, and the attic firmly shut.

These principles apply essentially to all heating fuels—electricity, gas, or oil.

Further details on these heating hints and others are among the 101 ways to conserve energy at home in our free booklet. To receive your copy, write Commonwealth Edison, Department AV, Box 767, Chicago, Illinois 60690.

Kiwanis Club donation

The Kiwanis Club of Niles recently presented a check for $200 to Orchard Village, the new community living facility for retarded young adults.

The facility is being run by the Orchard Assn. for the Retarded, made up of parents of mentally retarded and/or physically handicapped children in Niles and Maine Township.

Orchard Village will provide supervised homes for young adults who have progressed through all available special education facilities and who are not quite up to entering the work-a-day world entirely on their own.

They are: Sue Aures, Karen Barrett, Sherrie Berenson, Denise Halinton, Kim Hernandez, Kim Keper, Alan Keyes, David Kreger, Mary Beth Listman, Jeanne Lorenzen, Victoria Pollock, Robin Reiff, Bruce Schneider, Pamela Wayton, and Elizabeth Wedrall.

Scott rules out bus service cash

the service to come into Rolling Meadows until it is licensed by the city in the same manner cab services are licensed.

He has also said he is hesitant to permit the service to come into the city because of the funding question that has arisen in light of the Attorney General's ruling.

Scott's opinion was issued Feb. 7 in response to a question from William I. Walsh, chairman of the Commission on Intergovernmental Cooperation, on how townships in Illinois may spend revenue sharing allotments.

SCOTT'S ANSWER has said that the special funds can only be used for the same purposes for which the township's own funds can be used.

Illinois law limits the use of township funds to specific categories. Transportation uses are not included in those categories.

Township officials contacted yesterday, however, said they think the bus services are not in immediate danger and that a court ruling will probably be required to decide the matter.

"His opinion is not the same as law," Richard Cowen, Wheeling Township and acting Palatine Township attorney, said yesterday. "The first question that each township will have to answer is whether they are absolutely bound by the attorney general's opinion."

Cowen said a "friendly suit," or one deliberately sought to determine the legality of a matter, may result on the issue. "It may well have to take that route, but that determination has not been made that I know of."

BERNARD LEE, Elk Grove Township attorney, said Scott's opinion is "only a guideline." "At best, it is an advisory indication of what they think the law is," Lee said.

"Everything else that we have seen would indicate that townships were given the authority to expend these funds in accordance with the guidelines established by the revenue sharing act."

Use of revenue sharing for bus services for the elderly has been justified by the townships as a social service for the aged and the poor, a category allowed in the revenue sharing guidelines established by Congress.

"We feel that what we have done is perfectly permissible within the guidelines of the federal revenue sharing act and is acceptable within the laws of the state of Illinios," Palatine Township Supervisor Howard I. Olsen said yesterday.

OLSEN SAID HE did not know how the service might be affected by Scott's opinion. "It's too soon to conjecture what would happen if revenue sharing cannot be used for it."

He added the township has allocated revenue sharing funds with the knowledge that the funds have only been authorized for a five-year period.

"We have cautioned the agencies we have worked with that this is not a perpetual care and that they should have their houses in order for the future.

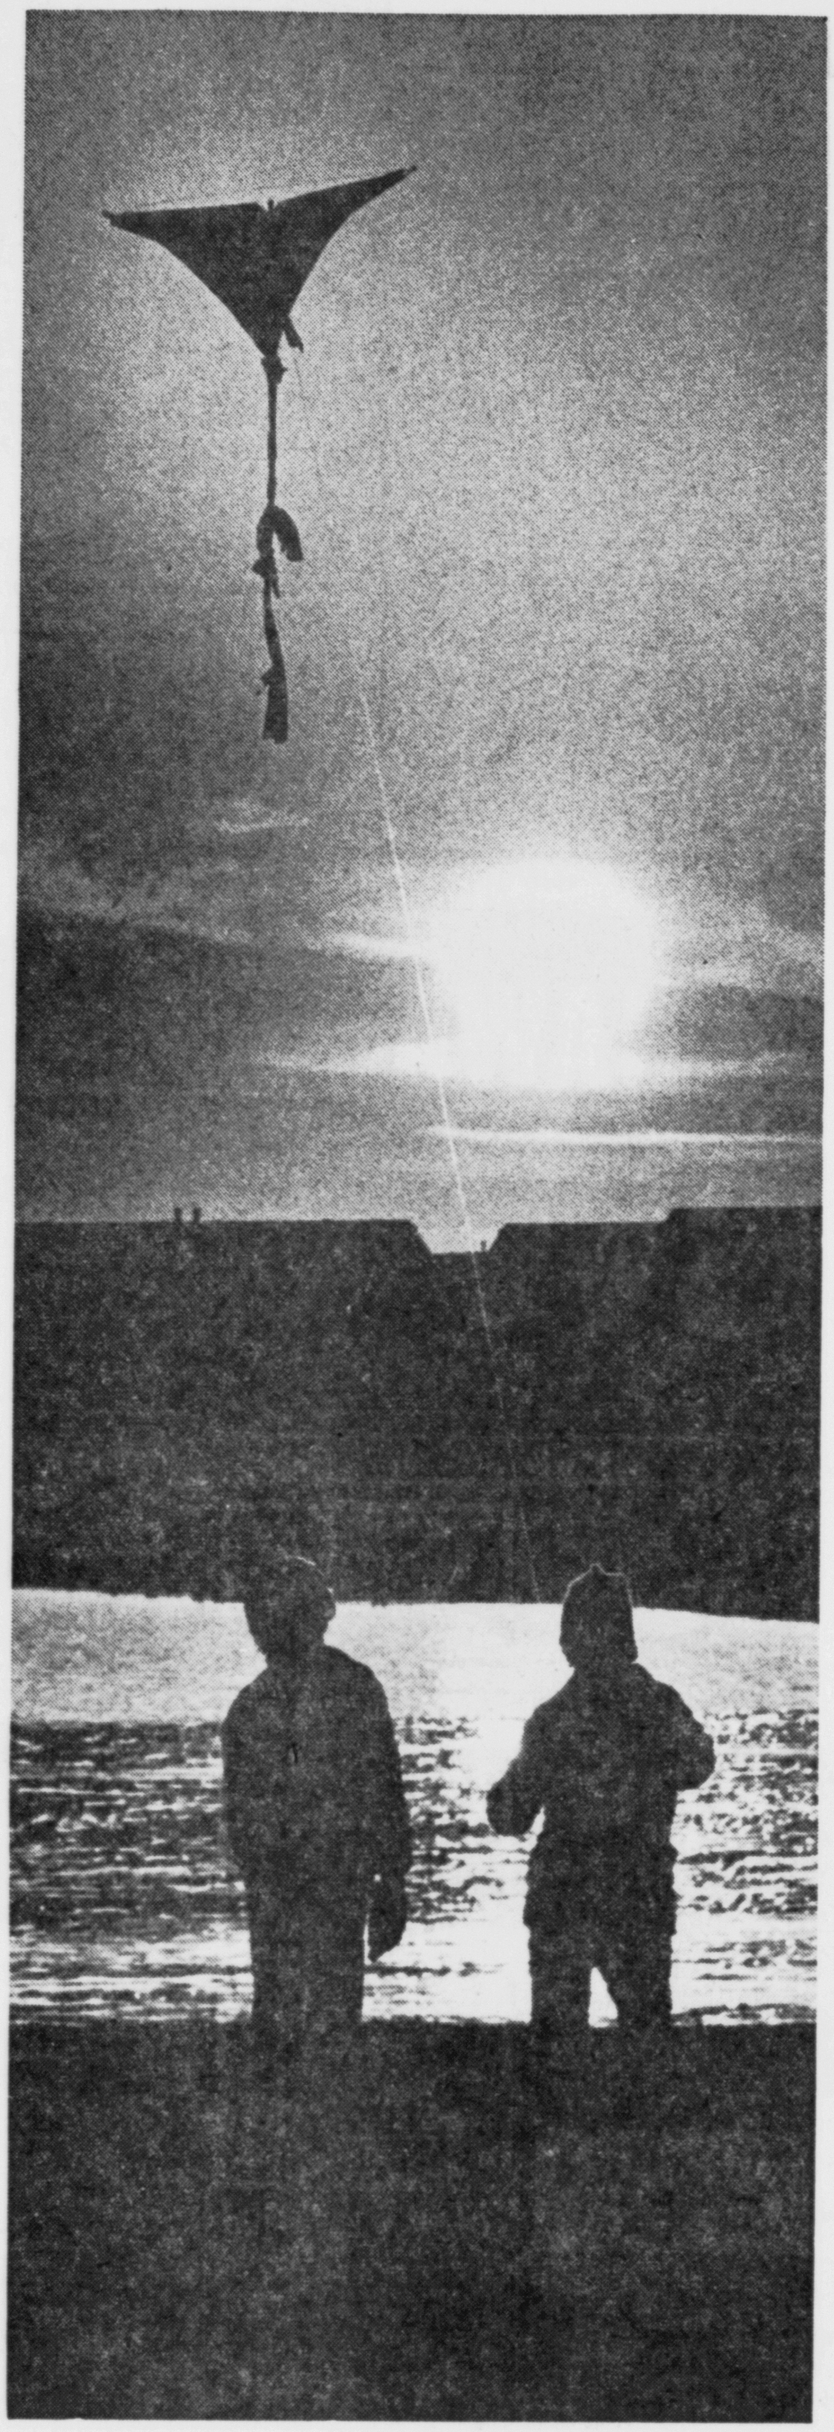
"It's too early to guess what might happen. I think the intention of the Congress was certainly to extend these kind of services," Olsen said. "We didn't tell them (the Council on Aging) to cancel the bus service. For one thing, at best it's only an opinion.

"We're hoping that this can be continued because we feel what we're doing is right."

Vernon Laubenstein, Schaumburg Township attorney, said he had only been notified yesterday of the opinion. "I would reserve judgment on it until I have had a chance to study it and get more information on it," he said.

Elk Grove Township Supervisor Richard Hall conceded the ruling could create a potential problem. "I'm sure the intent of the law was just to make sure that the money was spent for legal purposes. Unfortunately, it does seem to create a problem."

"At this point I don't think it is in jeopardy," Lee said of the Elk Grove service. "We're still going to try to spend the money on what we feel are intelligent, valid uses."



AS THE SUN heads down, up goes the kite. Yesterday's breezes were just enough for these lads, even though it remained chilly.

Local man bound over on rape charge

A Des Plaines man has been bound over for a grand jury hearing on a rape charge stemming from the assault on a Maine Township woman last October.

The suspect, Robert Hinton, 24, of 1031 Linda Ln., was ordered sent to the grand jury after a preliminary hearing Tuesday in the Niles branch of Cook County Circuit Court before Associate Judge Marvin J. Peters.

Hinton is charged with raping the woman after forcing his way into her apartment while she slept.

He was arrested less than a month later by Cook County Sheriff's Police outside the home of a Des Plaines woman who had complained of a "peeping tom."

Investigators had been suspicious of Hinton in the rape, connecting him to the case by using composite sketches made by police from victims' descriptions.

Hinton is currently free on $10,000 bond pending a hearing date before the grand jury.

A HOFFMAN ESTATES man, arrested the same day as Hinton by sheriff's police on separate rape charges is also awaiting a grand jury hearing date.

Harry Houck, 25, 394 Bode Rd., was ordered bound over after a preliminary hearing in the Niles circuit court branch Jan. 29.

Houck is accused of raping an Alexian Brothers Medical Center nurse Nov. 9 after pretending to take her to a gas station when he stopped to assist her when her car broke down.

Houck allegedly drove the woman to an Elk Grove Village trailer court and assaulted her.

Investigators took Houck into custody at his apartment after tying him to the rape, also through descriptions.

Mikva to speak at coffee March 6

Abner J. Mikva, Democratic candidate for Congress from the 10th District, will appear at a coffee at 8 p.m. March 6.

Hosting the party in their home will be Alderman and Mrs. Arthur R. Erbach, 1275 Prospect Ave., Des Plaines.

The public is invited to meet the candidate.

Young to talk to teens

U. S. Rep. Samuel Young, R-10th, will continue his "Young Dialogue" program in Des Plaines early next month with a session at Maine West High School.

Young will speak to students by means of an amplified long distance telephone hook-up. Young, who has given similar programs at other high schools in the district, begins the program with a recap of the week's events in Congress and then allows questions from the students.

The Maine West session will begin at 11:30 a.m. on March 5.

Young has used the dialogue programs and his frequent "one-on-one" sessions to meet with residents of the district during his first year in Congress.

"Particularly in these times it is important for a Congressman to be as accessible to the people of his district as possible, "Young said.

Maine West was one of the first area schools to take part in the program last year and Young is now repeating his program with the schools in 1974.

The congressman from Glenview is currently running for reelection against former Congressman Abner Mikva, whom he beat in 1972.

Liberal panel endorses Mikva

The liberal-oriented National Committee for an Effective Congress has announced its endorsement of 10th District Congressional candidate Abner Mikva.

Mikva, a former two-term Congressman, is seeking to unseat U. S. Rep. Samuel Young, R-10th, in the November election.

The NCEC National Director Russell Hemenway called Mikva "a public servant of unquestioned integrity who, in four years in Congress, earned the respect of nearly everyone in Washington as a leader in the fight to reform Congress."

The group has endorsed Mikva in each of his congressional campaigns, including his loss to Young in 1972.

NCEC was involved in about 66 congressional races in 1972. Hemenway cited Mikva as being the type of person needed for reform, adding, "the only way government will ever regain the public confidence is to elect people like Ab Mikva to Congress."

Mikva termed the NCEC endorsement "crucial" to his campaign effort.

Mikva has been outspokn on the topic of campaign reform and strong ethics laws regarding politicians.

Oakton sex lecture to feature homosexual

The second in the series of programs on human sexuality will be held at Oakton Community College on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. on the campus in Morton Grove.

The subject of the program will be "Same Sex Behavior." Speakers will include individuals from various homosexual organizations who have spoken to meetings at a number of colleges, universities, high schoools, churches and community groups.

The human sexuality programs are presented as a series of three lectures. A program on venereal disease awareness was held in October and a program on "Human Sexuality and the Senior Citizen" will be presented on March 19.

12 on dean's list

Twelve Des Plaines residents have been named to the dean's list at Illinois State University at Normal.

Students cited for academic achievement for the first semester were: Lindy Brown, Karla Felde, Theresa Figge, Deborah Kuefner, John Landuyt, Susan Listman, Robert North, Deborah Pierce, Sandra Robaus, and Linda Weisbecker.

Receiving straight A's in this grading period were Sue-Ellen Treitman and Kurt Smith.

Defensive driving course starts soon

Registration has begun for the National Safety Council defensive driving course to be offered by Des Plaines police.

The course will be taught by Des Plaines police officers and classes will begin Thursday, March 7, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the police classroom at the public works building, Campground and Algonquin roads.

A $5 fee will be charged for the four-week course.

Registration will be accepted from the first 50 persons who call Des Plaines police at 297-2131.

Family of three flees home fire

A mother and two small children escaped injury early yesterday when fire caused an undetermined amount of damage to their home in Des Plaines.

North Maine firefighters were working to determine the cause of the blaze which swept through the living room of the home of William Rainey, 9429 Sumac, yesterday morning.

According to Capt. Cal Cassiday, the woman, Linda Rainey, led her two children, aged 3 and 4, to safety through a rear window of the five-room townhouse. They were taken to Lutheran General Hospital for observation.

Cassiday said the flames appeared to have broken out in the living room of the house causing extensive damage to furnishings. The other rooms suffered smoke and water damage.

Small amounts of smoke seeped into an adjacent home but caused no damages, he said.

The alarm was phoned in by a neighbor who apparently noticed smoke coming from the home.

Smoke and flames were coming from the living room and the windows were broken when firemen arrived, said Cassiday. Firefighters forced their way in and extinguished the flames after several minutes.

Although the origin of the blaze was not known yesterday, Cassiday said arson was not suspected.

Auto break-in nets ring, coats

Someone broke into a car outside the Des Plaines Holiday Inn, and stole two coats and a ring valued at $315, police said yesterday.

The auto is owned by Thomas McKenzie of Middleburg, Ohio. He is a guest at the motel. The break-in was discovered early Tuesday, police reports said.

hicle thefts, which dropped 29 per cent from 125 to 88 for last year.

A drop of 20 per cent was also reflected in arsons with figures showing 34 in 1972 as opposed to only 27 last year.

Slight drops were also seen in burglaries except from autos, falling off to 543, a 2.3 per cent decrease from the 564 breakins and entries the year before.

As statistical crime rates jumped last year, however, crime clearance levels also showed a 26.8 per cent hike from 1,481, to 1,879. "We feel good about the clearance rate," Hintz said in an interview yesterday. That's our goal, to provide preventive measures."

He said the jump can be largely attributed to new investigative systems being used by the department's detective bureau where one detective is assigned to a particular case until the investigation is complete. "That's had an impact on a good part of it," said Hintz.

COMPARABLE YEARLY figures showed significant increases in some minor crime categories. Vandalism rose 53 per cent to 1,032 from 671 while offenses involving children soared 54.8 per cent. There were 511 such instances last year as opposed to 345 in 1972.

Another jump in minor crimes was seen in drunkeness and disorderly conduct rising 44 per cent from 343 to 496 cases.

The 87 reports of sex offenses except rape, were 17 per cent higher than the 1972 total of 74. Deceptive practices were 9.7 higher last year. The two annual totals were 123 and 135.

ONE DROP WAS noted in drug-related offenses, which were 20 per cent lower last year at 68 than they were in 1972 when 81 were reported.

Juvenile crimes increased only slightly last year to 1,465 as compared with 1972 when 1,438 youthful offenses were reported.

The report's criminal arrest analysis showed, however, that 70.5 or 1,620 of the 2,297 persons arrested in the city last year were under age 18. Last year's percentage of youthful arrests is identical to the 1972 figure.

Of total juvenile crimes, 763 or more than half were burglary, theft, shoplifting, vandalism and runaways.

THE REPORT also indicated that Des Plaines policemen participated in more than 4,980 total hours of training in various facets of police work. Sixth three policemen attended classes last year in such areas as traffic law enforcement, crime investigations and seminars in other technical fields.

Statistics over the last few years indicate steadily increasing crime trends in the city and police officials predict that figure will continue to rise.

"We always hope that its leveling off and hitting a peak, but we have to anticipate increases due to many factors over the next few years," said Hintz.

Oakton may not need referendum community" that opposed the site.

However, John Means, a member of the Maine Township High School Dist. 207 Board, said, "I'm most happy that you people have made the decision and I'm sure we'll support you 100 per cent."

Gilson reminded the committee members that Oakton has twice had to withdraw its choice of a site because of community opposition and said he will ask for as much support as possible.

"We're used to pressure," he said, adding, "I hope all of you can help sell this decision to the community. We don't need any more controversy. Too much controversy could kill the essence of this college."

The ICCB will meet March 22 and Oakton officials hope it will approve the site choice at that time.

Correction

A recent Herald headline indicated that Central Telephone Co. has budgeted $33 million for construction and modernization in the Des Plaines-Park Ridge serving area.

Centel has allotted approximately $17.7 million for construction and modernization in the state, with $15.3 million to be spent in the Des Plaines-Park Ridge area. The remainder of the $17.7 million will be spent in the Pekin and Dixon, Ill., districts served by the utility company.

Centel's average construction budget over the past years has been $18 million per year.

Oakton enrollment up 13% over year

The number of students registered for the spring semester at Oakton Community College is 3,506, a 13 per cent increase over the spring term one year ago.

According to John Gagin, director of admissions and records, there are a number of significant changes in the Oakton student body this semester because more students are attending part-time than full-time, more are attending evening than day classes and the number of students attending Oakton from out-of-district communities on the North Shore continues to increase.

Full-time enrollment at Oakton this spring is 1,488, about 42 per cent of total enrollment. Part-time enrollment is 2,018 or 58 per cent of the enrollment.

About 81 per cent of the students are registered for the college transfer programs of business, general science, liberal arts and pre-engineering. The remaining 19 per cent are in the 19 vocational-technical programs at Oakton.

Within the district, Skokie has the largest number of students attending the college with 808, followed by Des Plaines with 568.

Imperial plans to call 50 witnesses

Efforts to halt invention firm's operations drag on

by STEVE BROWN

Illinois Atty. Gen. William Scott's efforts to block Imperial Inventors International Inc., 2250 E. Devon Ave., Des Plaines, from doing business in the state could drag on for several months.

Government attorneys learned yesterday that any hope of a quick decision on a request for injunction may be impossible because Imperial's attorney indicated he plans to call 50 witnesses in defense of the firm.

Imperial, which has been the target of both state and federal fraud charges, claims to offer product development and marketing services to inventors.

CRAIG SHERMAN, Imperials attorney, announced his plans to call the 50 witnesses after a one-hour hearing before Cook County Circuit Court Judge Frances Delaney yesterday.

During the hearing, Assistant Atty. Gen. Peter Kilchenmann called two more inventors who had done business with Imperial and attempted to show they had been promised success and profits by the company. Three other inventors and a Herald reporter had testified earlier in the case.

The hearing was continued after Delaney heard the two witnesses. He scheduled the next court session for Thursday and warned attorneys for both sides that if there are any more delays he will hold court Saturday and Sunday to complete the hearing.

Besides the injunction hearing, which is a preliminary matter related to a lawsuit filed by the Attorney General's Consumer Fraud and Protection Agency charging the company with violation of the state Consumer Fraud Act and decep'ive business practices.

Five Imperial officials are scheduled to go to trial in U. S. District Court on March 25 on mail fraud charges.

THE CIRCUIT COURT hearing on the injunction request has been continued repeatedly since November by Imperial's attorneys and Delaney's crowded court calendar.

During yesterday's hearing Mrs. Josephine Casperson of Mount Prospect said Imperial officials guaranteed her success with an idea for an auto-safety product.

Another Imperial client, Joseph Salvador of Chicago, said he also had received guarantees of success from Imperial.

Both persons testified that they had paid Imperial more than $700 each for a product evaluation and to market their products to manufacturers.

Salvador and Mrs. Casperson said Imperial had done nothing to promote their product although they did admit under cross-examination they did recieve copies of letters from manufacturers stating they were not interested in their products.

Salvador, who said he had marketed several products successfully in Europe, said he terminated his contract with Imperial after one year, because "I could do in one month what they did not do in a year."

B-12 necessary for pernicious anemia

by Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

I have pernicious anemia and have been taking vitamin B-12 injections for the past two years. Got tired of going to the doctor for the injections, so I stopped going. When I went to him the other day he gave me a good scolding and told me how important it was to take these injections for the rest of my life.

Would you enlighten me on pernicious anemia? Is it serious? Really don't feel any better after taking these injections, only a black and blue arm. I'm an older woman, so I'd like to know more about this blood condition that I must take injections the rest of my life for.

Your doctor should have scolded you. You had better believe that pernicious anemia is serious. What happens is that you don't absorb vitamin B-12 from your food. You need this vitamin in the vital process of producing new body cells — which we all must do as long as we live. We destroy and replace millions of new red blood cells each minute. To make new red cells you need the B-12. If you don't have it, you don't form the new red blood cells and you get a severe anemia.

The lack of B-12 can cause changes in other cells in the body, even affecting the way the brain functions. There can be gradual changes in the important nerve cells in your spinal cord, leading to serious problems even in walking. So, weakness, changes in your brain and nerves, changes in your digestive system, and generalized serious problems can result. Some of these develop gradually, and you may not notice them until you have already caused serious damage. Be a good patient and get the most out of your doctor's good advice.

For a person who should eat liver occasionally but doesn't care for it, would you say that liver extract or liver pills would do just as well?

Liver is a good food. It is a good source of iron and a number of important vitamins. It is also moderately high in cholesterol and for those needing to limit their cholesterol, which certainly includes most men, it should be eaten in small amounts, if at all.

There is nothing in liver you can't get from other good foods. The vitamin enrichment and mineral supplements of our foods provide a lot of our vitamin needs that would be met by liver. Recently it has been decided to increase the iron in bread and similar products. So, I'm not really impressed that a person who doesn't like liver has to eat it today to be sure they are getting all the vitamins or minerals they need.

You can use liver extract in pill form, and you will absorb it as long as your stomach generates a substance needed to absorb vitamin B-12. If you have lost the ability to absorb B-12, as occurs in pernicious anemia, then you would need to take shots to get vitamin B-12 in the body.

Laundry owners to weigh 'survival' at March parley

by LEROY POPE

NEW YORK—Much of the American laundry and dry cleaning industry will gather in New Orleans late in March for a convention to discuss survival issues.

The meeting will be that of the International Fabricare Institute. The survival issues concern how to meet water and air pollution and occupational safety standards imposed by the federal and state governments, says Dr. Manfred Wentz, a German-born scientist who conducts the institute's research center at Silver Spring, Md.

The new standards are very strict, Wentz explained. The industry does not regard them as unreasonable but is concerned over whether the small firms that constitute 75 per cent of an industry with 600,000 workers that grosses $7.2 billion a year can meet them on schedule.

"For the laundry people the problem is primarily financial," Wentz said. "It resolves into a simple harsh alternative — clean up or pay up."

HE EXPLAINED THAT 90 per cent of America's laundries discharge wastewater into municipal treatment plants. More and more municipalities, prodded by the federal Environmental Protection Agency EPA, are raising their standards for the quality of acceptable wastewater and assessing a sewer tax surcharge on all industries that don't meet the new standards.

What the laundry owners hope to learn at New Orleans is how much this will cost them and at what point it will pay them to clean up their own wastewater instead of paying the surcharge.

"For many, deciding this issue properly can determine their survival," Wentz said.

CACI luncheon slated Feb. 27

The Chicago Assn. of Commerce and Industry will present a luncheon program on Feb. 27 entitled, "Adopting new technologies, developing new products and solving technical problems."

The program is designed to help small industrial firms meet such problems, drawing on the experience of counselors in the field. The noon meeting will be held at the CACI conference room, 72 E. Adams St., Chicago.

Universal Oil exec speaks

Maynard P. Venema, chairman of Des Plaines-based Universal Oil Products Co., will present the keynote address at a management conference Saturday in Rosemont. Venema is chairman of the National Assn. of Manufacturers' executive committee.

Stewart Udall, former secretary of the Interior, is also among the 12 speakers at the conference, entitled "Managing in a shortage economy." The conference is sponsored by Kearney Management Consultants. It will be held at the Regency Hyatt House.

A 'foundation' for the little guy?

by GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Any average taxpayer faced with the increasing bite from his income must think at one time or another about establishing himself as a foundation and receiving increased tax benefits.

The extremely wealthy do set up foundations, do reap tax benefits, and they do also serve society through the foundations they finance.

But how well and what are the relative costs as well as the benefits of their activities?

ONE NEW critique of the big foundations says one of their chief functions now appears to be transfer of funds to sustain reputable nonprofit organizations. While of value, this function alone cannot justify the cost to society in terms, for example, of administrative costs and the cost of government supervision.

The most important social cost, however, is indirect — "the destructive effect on the public's confidence in the national tax system because of continued tax privileges to the very rich," says the critique.

"There are costs as well as benefits in the operation of any institution and there are alternatives to philanthropy," it continues. "One alternative would be to broaden the base of private giving by granting additional incentives to the average taxpayer, such as limited direct deduction from his tax bill, not merely from his taxable income.

"This might greatly increase the flow of charitable funds to nonprofit organizations."

These are some of the conclusions reached by Maxwell S. Stewart, secretary of the Public Affairs Committee, a nonprofit educational organization headquartered in New York.

STEWART is author of "The Big Foundations," a committee publication. His summary in turn is based on a Twentieth Century Fund Study by Waldemar A. Nielsen, which focused on 33 grant-making foundations, each with assets of $100 million or more.

The Public Affairs Committee itself is supported by sales of its publications, mostly in bulk to various institutions, and with an occasional foundation grant, a spokesman said.

The committee publication finds that on the whole, despite certain valuable contributions, most foundations are "overwhelmingly passive, conservative, and anchored in the status quo," with a strong preference for making their gifts to established institutions that are certified tax-exempt and to other conventional charitable projects.

Stewart does not find this surprising. He says that since most of the governing boards of trustees of foundations consist of members of the business elite with close ties to corporate interests, they are often "ridden with conflicts of interest incompatible with . . . devotion to philanthropic purposes and public interest."

CERTAIN FOUNDATIONS certainly measure up, however. Stewart mentions the Ford Foundation in particular in the area of race relations. The foundation, he says, "over a period of about 20 years has committed some $250 million to projects directly related to the rights and needs of black people."

Stewart cites also the foundations' support of the "early work on population control and family planning in the face of great public indifference and institutionalized hostility . . .

"Who else would have created a commission on public broadcasting, financed the Conant study of the American high school, and created the Kerr Commission on higher education?"

A copy of "The Big Foundations" is available for 35 cents from the Public Affairs Committee, 381 Park Ave. S., New York, N.Y. 10016.

Ford's man a 1974 victim

by AL MESSERSCHMIDT
Metropolitan Affairs Editor

Vice President Gerald Ford was talking about Watergate before Chicago-area Republican leaders last week.

Ford warned that a special election in Pennsylvania's 12th District on Feb. 5 was not a true indicator of Watergate damage to the GOP. A Democrat won that election by about 300 votes, although the House seat previously was Republican. Inflation, Nixon administration scandals and shortages were key issues in the year's first vote test and the slim victory margin for labor-backed John P. Murtha, a Vietnam veteran and state legislator, has perplexed political observers.

At a Marriott Motor Hotel closed-door luncheon Ford delivered a brief speech to GOP moneymen. A question and answer session began and Ford fielded Watergate on one hop.

Look not at Pennsylvania, he said. Look to Michigan's 5th Congressional Dist.

Ford was a multi-term representative from that district before he succeeded Spiro Agnew. The dominant Dutch element in the area had returned Republicans to the House for 62 years.

The Michigan vote ended Tuesday. The Republican leaders who heard Ford — Atty. Gen. Bill Scott, State's Atty. Bernard Carey, Comr. Floyd Fulle, Committeewoman Hope McCormick — now have another indication of Watergate power on future elections nationwide.

Republican hope that administration scandals will be forgotten by November looks dim.

Gerald Ford

Jack Gilligan

Ford personally backed Republican Robert VanderLaan as his successor for the House seat. But Democrat Richard VanderVeen offered an anti-Nixon, Watergate stance.

The Democrat won the election by nearly 7,000 votes and immediately called for Nixon's resignation. The 5th Dist. now has its first Democrat representative since 1910.

The vice president ducked requests to campaign for GOP candidates during his visit here. The trip was non-political, aides said, and even a proposal to boster pre-primary spirit of county committeeman was turned down.

Ford is committed to a campaign stop in Chicago before the November general election. Party leaders hint that the visit may come in the fall, if the Nixon administration continues in Washington.

The value of campaign aid from national figures often is debated. Recent Nixon administration visitors have brought both problems and headlines.

While Ford praised the undefeated Tinley Park high school football team, media reporters were grumbling about security. When a vice-president, a president or a presidential candidate comes to town, the Secret Service sets the elaborate groundrules for entry to press conferences, speeches and other events. The credential foul-ups during Ford's visit, and the lack of admission to the GOP luncheon drew criticism.

When Gen. Alexander Haig flew to Chicago for U.S. Rep. Samuel Young's 10th Dist. fund raiser, the media question was "who paid for the plane from Washington?" Even Nixon made few friends during 1972 when he popped into an O'Hare Airport hangar for his sole campaign stop in Chicago.

From the county beat:

—The constitutional question of Cook County's unincorporated-area vehicle tax apparently is headed for another court battle. The Congress of Homeowners of Unincorporated Cook County filed late this week a petition for rehearing by the Illinois Supreme Court. The Illinois court recently ruled that the wheel tax is legal.

If the petition for a hearing is denied, the homeowners may appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court, said Jack Gilligan of Prospect Heights.

Gilligan and other homeowners met Wednesday with county officials to ask for non-enforcement of the tax until court appeals are completed. County officials offered no promises. "I suppose they'll want to collect the money even though it goes into an escrow account," Gilligan said.

Despite protest from Comr. Fulle, the county board approved a joint purchase contract with the City of Chicago for printing of 1975 vehicle tags.

—County board candidate John Kneafsey has disclosed his assets. Kneafsey is running as an independent against the Republican party slate. Kneafsey, an Evanston alderman and private attorney, listed assets of $87,000 including his home, cars and life insurance. He listed liabilities of $42,000, including real estate mortgages. Kneafsey challenged the six party-backed candidates to provide similar financial information before the March 19 primary election.

Herald editorial

We laud anti-censorship move

The Elk Grove Village Library has taken commendable action in creating a procedure for patrons to complain about a book on the shelves while at the same time giving notice that no book will be removed from circulation without a court order.

Here's what the library did: Officials there are preparing a way for local citizens to fill out a form to complain about "objectionable" library material.

The form will ask the library patron to detail specifically his or her objections to the book or materials. But the complaint would not lead to automatic removal of the material from the library shelves. Instead, library staff members will then try to explain why the book was purchased and what benefit it holds.

In an equally welcome move, the library board voted to adopt as a policy of the library that no book can be removed from distribution without a formal court order. The adopted rule theoretically will prevent anxious citizens groups or local governments from raiding the library or imposing on it their own temporary rules of propriety.

In Elk Grove Village, this new rule is particularly ironic since it was this village government which prohibited the showing of an X-rated film at a local theater.

No such threat of censorship has ever been leveled publicly at the library, but the natural implications of the board's action reflect on the movie theater incident.

Whether a reaction to that incident, the merits of the library board's decision are valid on their own terms. By stating forthwith that it will take an order from the judicial bench to remove a book from circulation, the library is reinforcing not only its own responsibility to select reading material for the community, but also the community's right to read all manner of material.

The idea of a standard form for complaints acknowledges that the library's staff and board must back their decisions to display books and material with logic and candor. Patrons are entitled to know why a book is on the shelves, if not singly to prohibit that book from being read by others.

Critics of this plan may say the library now allows them to complain about material but not to do something about it, a line of logic which forgets that library policies can be changed with the composition of the board at the next election.

In our view, the Elk Grove Village public library is acting most responsibly by acting to keep its shelves free from impulsive and faddish censorship.

Report hits economic myths

by GEORGE J. MARDER

WASHINGTON — A simple table in the latest report of the President's Council of Economic Advisers destroys some economic myths about America.

Myth 1 — Economic upheavals of the past quarter of a century have had a leveling influence by creating a great, affluent middle class.

Myth 2 — Vast numbers of poor have moved out of the poverty class at the expense of the middle class.

Myth 3 — The rich just keep getting richer, in relation to the poor, and the poor keep getting poorer.

Myth 4 — The American economy has such great resiliency and flexibility that it is able to take cataclysmic shifts in stride.

The table shows there have been no cataclysmic shifts in the past quarter of a century, while pointing up two things about the American economy:

— The pie has gotten bigger, but no group of Americans got a bigger slice at the expense of any other class: the rich clung to their share, the middle class managed to hold on to what they had, and the poor remained the poor, relative to the remainder of the nation.

—The American economy has astonishing stability — or rigidity.

The factors which make for economic inequality remained almost unchanged over the entire quarter of a century, despite the fact that the poor narrowed the gap with the wealthy on schooling and more wives of the middle class and poor were working than ever before.

The table divided America in five economic groups based on family income. the lowest 20 per cent — the poor — were shown to have gotten only 5.1 per cent of the nation's income in 1947. After 25 years of struggle, the share of the pie by the poor had risen to 5.4 per cent, a difference that could be a result of a statistical error.

The second group from the bottom — 20 per cent of the nation — got 11 per cent of the pie 25 years ago. Last year, its share had gone up to 11.9, an even more significant change.

The third group increased its share from 16.8 per cent to 17.5 per cent. the fourth group remained almost stationary, at 23.2 in 1947 as against 23.9 last year.

The highest income group took a bit of a dip, from 43.3 to 41.4 That same dip showed up when the Economic Council analyzed the pie slice which has been going to the richest of the rich — the top 5 per cent in the nation. In 1947, the top group got 17.5 per cent of the nation's income; last year, it was 15.9.

The President's experts were somewhat surprised by their own findings. "Quite remarkably," they noted, "relative income shares have hardly varied in the 25 years."

They were particularly surprised that changes in education had not served as an economic equalizer, observing in the report:

"The greater opportunities for schooling among persons at all income levels and the larger subsidies for training less advantaged persons might have been expected to reduce earnings in equality." (UPI)

Buffalo Grove police help commended

letters to the editor

Mr. Widman and I wish to express our thanks and gratitude for the wonderful service, understanding concern and helpfulness rendered by the Buffalo Grove Police Dept. and Officer Manson in particular.

On the morning of January 10, our granddaughter, Lisa Ruttenberg, age 4, was stricken with an acute attack of epiglottitis and taken to Northwest Community Hospital, Arlington Heights, where an emergency tracheotomy was performed. The prompt response to the call for help by the mother, Judy Ruttenberg, and the efficient handling of the critical situation were instrumental in saving Lisa's life. Beyond that, Officer Manson stayed on until help came to care for the baby and saw Debbie, 7½, off to school.

Mr. Widman and I are two very grateful grandparents. We are pleased our children live in a community that has such an excellent police department.

Mrs. Hardy G. Widman
Skokie

Lisa's life is a precious gift.

It is often difficult to put into words the love we have towards our children. Yet, when the life of our 4-year-old daughter, Lisa, was threatened, we realized, even more, how truly precious our children are to us.

On the morning of January 10, Lisa began having difficulty breathing and by 8 a.m. she was critically ill. Little, if any, oxygen was getting to her lungs and her eyes began to roll up into her head.

I made an emergency call for help to the Buffalo Grove Paramedics and it was only with their proficient lifesaving techniques, combined with the superb efforts of Dr. Robert Glass and his staff at Northwest Community Hospital that Lisa is alive today.

The paramedics responded immediately with police and fire department aid in administering oxygen to her at our home. They continued to give her a maximum of medical assistance all the way to the hospital. It was there that Lisa underwent tracheotomy surgery for an acute epiglottis in addition to having a collapsed lung and pnuemonia.

This highly critical situation was overcome by the prompt attention of these very special and dedicated volunteers.

Words such as admiration, pride, respect, faith and thankfulness are but a few that somewhat describe our feelings about this marvelous team of men.

The words need no definitions for they are given real meaning through the happy face of our Lisa today.

During those very difficult days at Lisa's bedside in the hospital, we hoped and prayed and our prayers were answered.

We wish to extend our deep appreciation for the outstanding and combined efforts of our Buffalo Grove police, fire and emergency paramedic service. We thank the magnificent teams of doctors, all of Lisa's private duty nurses and the specialists at Northwest Community Hospital who gave so much of themselves to make Lisa well.

A special thanks to our many friends and neighbors for being so wonderful.

In addition, our personal love to a remarkable little girl whose strong will and brave character has made her life a truly precious gift.

With all our love and admiration.

Lorry and Judy Ruttenberg and Lisa's sisters, Debbie and Jamie.

Urges baseball support

It is hard for me to believe that some people would boycott Pancake Day and propose to picket the Elk Grove Boy's Baseball registration because of the $10 participation fee. These people are probably the ones who forced the organization to impose this fee. If more people gave freely of their time to help the organization (and it can only be run with volunteers) this would not have been necessary. Year after year it is the same people who give their time and effort for the benefit of your boy with no compensation. Pancake Day is not a profit making enterprise. The returns are used for equipment and all the necessities it takes to run the organization.

In my opinion, if the parents don't support the fund raising activities, there is no recourse but to raise the enrollment fee. I, for one, would gladly pay this fee for the privilege of having my boys play ball. There are many towns and villages that do not offer their children all the wonderful activities that Elk Grove does. Let's put our efforts into helping instead of opposing the good people who work hard to keep Boys Baseball in the village.

My thanks to the people who think enough of the village and the boys in it, for all you have done and all you will do.

Flood insurance mandatory in some cases

U.S. tightens rules for home buyers

by STEVE BROWN

Home buyers in some areas of most local communities may have problems obtaining mortgages after March 1 unless they have already purchased flood insurance.

New restrictions, which are set down in the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973, will require residents in areas designated as flood-prone by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development to acquire the insurance by March 1, 1974.

The law will affect residents of Arlington Heights, Buffalo Grove, Des Plaines, Elk Grove Village, Hoffman Estates, Mount Prospect, Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Schaumburg and Wheeling.

NOT ALL RESIDENTS in these communities will be affected by the new federal provisos — only those who live within the designated flood-prone zones.

The zones have been determined by a federal survey on all communities which have applied for eligibility in the government subsidized flood insurance program.

Many area communities sought government approval in late 1972 after heavy summer rains deluged the Northwest suburbs.

THE NEW LAW, which is a revision of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1968, lays down more stringent guidelines for controlling construction on land that is prone to flooding.

The law also specifies that persons who purchase homes in these areas must have the flood insurance before a mortgage can be granted from any financial institution insured by the federal government.

The March 1 deadline may not apply to the communities of Buffalo Grove, Hoffman Estates and Schaumburg because they have not received the maps designating the flood-prone areas from the federal government, according to a spokesman for the Governor's Task Force on Flood Control.

As of Dec. 31, 1973, about 584 residents have insured property valued at $5.9 million under the federally subsidized program.

NEITHER STATE nor federal officials could estimate how many local ressidents could be affected by the new law. A spokesman for the state said State Farm Insurance, which has been designated as coordinator for the insurance applications in Illinois, has received many new requests in recent weeks.

However, state officials and a HUD spokesman expressed concern about many Illinois communities which have not requested approval for the flood insurance program. A HUD spokesman said about 728 communities in the state are designated as flood prone area, but that only 15 per cent of those towns have applied.

"We have been doing a lot better in recent months in getting persons to apply for the insurance," a spokesman said.

The spokesman added that the government enacted the more stringent provisions so that the burden of paying for disaster damages could be shifted to the insurance industry.

The federal government has paid out nearly $5 billion since 1968 for disaster relief, 90 per cent of which was provided to repair flood damage.

Congressional wrapup

Truckers' strike resolution OKd

From Roll Call Report

Following is a summary of major votes by Illinois congressmen during the period from Feb. 7 to Feb. 13. Included here are the votes of Northwest suburban congressmen Rep. Philip M. Crane, R-12th, and Rep. Samuel H. Young, R-10th. The Senate conducted no roll-call votes during that period.

House

LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY RECESS: A resolution to recess the House for five days and the Senate for nine days in commemoration of Lincoln's Birthday, passed 209-175.

The House had planned a 10-day recess, but shortened it because of a heavy legislative agenda.

Those voting against the measure said that even five days are too many, and that vacations early in a session lead to legislative logjams at the session's end.

Crane ..... Yes
Young ..... No

OTHERS: Ralph Metcalfe, D-1st; Morgan Murphy, 2nd; Edward Derwinski, R-4th; John Kluczynski, D-5th; Harold Collier, R-6th; Cardiss Collins, D-7th; Sidney Yates, D-9th; Frank Annunzio, D-11th; John Erlenborn, R-14th; Leslie Arends, R-15th; John Anderson, R-16th; George O'Brien, R-17th; Thomas Railsback, R-19th; George Shipley, D-22nd, and Melvin Price, D-23rd, voted yes.

Robert Hanrahan, R-3rd; Robert McClory, R-13th; Robert Michel, R-18th, and Paul Findley, R-20th, voted no.

Dan Rostenkowski, D-8th; Edward Madigan, R-21st, and Kenneth Gray, D-24th, did not vote.

TRUCKERS' STRIKE: An emergency resolution to permit settlement of the independent truckers' strike passed 374-6.

The measure, which the Senate already had passed, provides that shippers will reimburse truckers for any increases in the price of truck fuel since May 30, 1973.

The trucking industry is regulated by the Interstate Commerce Commission, whose rules normally take 30 days to become effective. The resolution suspended the 30-day delay and permitted the ICC to issue a regulation, effective immediately, to authorize the "pass through" of diesel fuel cost hikes.

Supporters of the resolution argued that truckers deserve economic relief.

Some opponents argued that it was unfair to force shippers to absorb the rising cost of fuel.

Metcalfe,

Crane ..... Yes
Young ..... Yes

Metcalfe, Murphy, Kluczynski, Yates, Annunzio, McClory, Erlenborn, Arends, Anderson, O'Brien, Michel, Railsback, Findley, Shipley and Price voted yes.

Hanrahan, Derwinski, Collier, Collins, Rostenkowski, Madigan and Gray did not vote.

SOLAR ENERGY A bill to authorize $50 million through fiscal 1979 for research into harnessing sunlight to heat and cool buildings, passed 253-2.

The measure now goes to the Senate. If the bill becomes law, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, the Department of Housing and Urban Development and the National Science Foundation will jointly administer a solar energy program.

Crane ..... No
Young ..... Yes

Murphy, Hanrahan, Derwinski, Collins, Yates, Annunzio, McClory, Erlenborn, Arends, O'Brien, Railsback, Findley, Madigan, Shipley and Price voted yes.

Metcalfe, Kluczynski, Collier, Rostenkowski, Anderson, Michel and Gray did not vote.

Hartigan admits to 'running a few errands...'

Lt. Gov. Neil Hartigan, blasted this week by Gov. Daniel Walker as an "errand boy" for Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley and a "petty politician" apologized for his late arrival at a Thursday Illinois State Chamber of Commerce meeting in Des Plaines "because I was running a few errands. I'll admit to that."

"There's nothing dull about governing in Illinois," he added. Hartigan told some 430 business representatives at the O'Hare Inn that "there have been a lot of errands" in cutting away government red tape.

Citing his work on programs for the aged, the handicapped and planning for an airport in southern Illinois, Hartigan said the same type of cooperative effort is needed to solve the energy-shortage problem. "This could happen by the stroke of a pen," by the governor, he said.

Denying that he's interested in personal issues, the lieutenant governor said it's usually the losers who do most of the complaining. "I'll leave hand-wringing to those on the sidelines," he said.

Asked about gasoline allocations for the Chicago area Hartigan said, "I read Gov. Walker's press releases just like the rest of the people."

Political video ads have great impact on voters

DuBrow on TV

by Rick DuBrow

HOLLYWOOD — What effects do political television commercials have on voters?

Two Syracuse University professors, Thomas Patterson and Robert McClure, have tackled the question, and their conclusions are contained in a study published by the Citizens' Research Foundation, Princeton, N. J.

In a summary of the study, the foundation notes:

"Voter research prior to the introduction of television into American politics revealed that low interest voters ignored most efforts at political persuasion. Advocates of TV ads argue that they help overcome the apathy of these voters. The authors found that TV ads do indeed have a substantial impact on low interest voters.

"The authors suggest the explanation for this may be that low interest voters are especially susceptible to the influence of TV commercials compared to high interest voters, who are likely to rely on other sources of political information, such as newspapers and radio and TV news broadcasts.

CONTRARY TO the contentions of critics, moderately interested voters are affected by TV political ads even more than less interested voters."

In its summary of the study, the foundation adds:

"Based on their findings for the 1972 presidential campaign, the authors reason that in campaigns for other offices, television advertising should have even greater impact and should influence high interest voters, the most, due to the lack of political coverage from other information sources.

"In addition, they argue that in any campaign, TV commercials should have greater impact in primary than general elections, for the same reason."

Patterson and McClure "monitored the television exposure of over 600 voters during the 1972 presidential campaign," according to the foundation's summary. "They analyzed the impact of three TV spots sponsored by 'Democrats for Nixon' which attacked George McGovern's stands on issues and his leadership qualities."

AMONG THE results of this survey in the study — "Political Advertising? Voter Reaction to Televised Political Commercials" — were these, says the summary:

- Political commercials "appear to be more effective when they communicate issue, rather than image, information."
- They "are an important source of information for certain voters."
- They "usually move undecided voters and vote switchers in the direction of their basic predispositions, which may or may not benefit the candidate sponsoring the commercial."

This information should mesmerize candidates for dogcatcher, Congress and other high posts.

WHEN BOB JOHNSON gets his lines wrong, his wife is right there to correct him. But Bob is used to having Shirley tell him what to do. She has directed almost all the plays staged by Masque and Staff in the 15 years the Elk Grove Village community theater group has been entertaining local audiences. This scene is from last spring's production of "Last of the Red Hot Lovers." Bob's leading lady in the third act is Bonnie Casey.

Shirley Johnson: The guiding hand of Masque & Staff

by GENIE CAMPBELL

Women's lib is flourishing in some households. Bob Johnson, for instance, has been taking ordrs from his wife for 15 years. And the love scenes? Shirley has plenty to say about those, too.

Bob enjoys acting. Shirley likes directing. And more often than not, Masque and Staff patrons see both names listed on the night's playbill.

"He loves to give me a hard time, but he is very good about it," said Shirley, who is used to casting her husband in plays. "Bob is the type who is slow learning his lines, but on opening night he always knows them. The audience turns him on."

THOUGH Bob's face may be more familiar to theatergoers because of his numerous stage appearances, Shirley puts it all together. She has directed almost every play produced by the Elk Grove Village community theater group in its 15-year existence. That makes 36. And No. 37, "Butterflies Are Free," has already been announced for spring.

Will Bob try out? Well, if he doesn't, his wife will put him to work backstage.

While other theater groups in the area are noted for trading actors and directors, Masque and Staff takes care of its own. The group is very community oriented, very closeknit. Those who drop out do so only because they move away.

Shirley Johnson helped institute Masque and Staff and she has been resident director right from the start. Only during an emergency has somebody else taken over. And then it was someone from within the group itself.

"WE TRY TO KEEP the closeness and informality of our group," said Shirley. "The members do personally care about each other. We don't hire from outside and we also always try to cast from within our membership."

"We want our people to take part and grow. This is what community theater is all about," she added.

Shirley has always been interested in theater. While still single and working in Chicago, she became active with the Union League Players who performed for youth groups and other organizations throughout the city.

She also was a member of the drama council for the Fourth Presbyterian Church which annually staged a variety pageant. As the council's activities expanded, Shirley began directing plays for the church. She first met Bob through the church and it wasn't long before he, too, was up on stage.

"I KINDA pushed him along, I guess. At first he took part reluctantly. Now he really likes it . . . old ham bone himself."

Following the Johnsons' move to Elk Grove Village, Shirley helped stage a variety show for the Church of the Good Shepherd. The show appealed to community residents who besieged Shirley to form a theater guild. The outcome was the formation of Masque and Staff.

"We try to hit a happy medium. We want to please our patrons and our members," she explained. "Of course, we want to do a good job, but we also want to enjoy what we are doing."

Shirley enjoys directing both comedies and dramas. She favors variety.

"We always try to produce two comedies and one drama each year," she said.

SINCE 1964, Masque and Staff has presented its final spring comedy in a dinner-theater format, the only community guild in the area to do so.

At the close of the season Masque and Staff members throw their annual banquet at which time the "buddas" are handed out.

"It's kind of like the Oscar awards only we give our buddas for the biggest boo-boos," laughed Shirley, pulling one from a collection in her dining room breakfront. "I won't take all the credit for these," she smiled. "Several are Bob's."

The Johnsons' 17-year-old daughter often helps out by decorating sets or ushering during individual performances. "But she has no real desire to act," said her mother.

NOT SO WITH 10-year-old Todd, who is already begging his mother to direct a children's show so he can be on stage.

"Todd is off the old block . . . a real ham bone."

Needlepoint

Mrs. Hugh Downs introduces her own line of designs in Midwest

by GENIE CAMPBELL

Ruth Downs did all kinds of needlework as a child. Her first and second grade teacher used to take an hour several times a week to teach the girls in her class how to embroider.

"But today she would have to teach the boys, too," said the wife of television celebrity Hugh Downs when she stopped at Woodfield recently to introduce her own line of needlepoint that is being carried exclusively by Marshall Field's.

Mrs. Downs first began experimenting with needlepoint about 15 years ago while her husband was host of the "Today" TV show.

"Once I started I became almost an addict," she said. "I decided that's what I liked doing the most."

AND RUTH WASN'T kidding. She became so involved in the craft that a year ago she opened her own needlepoint shop in Carefree, Ariz., where the Downs presently reside. Though Carefree is only a small town of 200, Ruth now employes eight full-time artists to design and paint patterns for her line which is being sold and mailed to needlepointers across the country.

And it isn't just the usual line of pillows and foot-stool covers. Ruth Downs also has patterns for bicycle seats, loafers and slippers, back packs, lamp bases, book ends and a little sign that reads, "Thanks for not smoking," which is being made up in several different sizes.

"That one has been very popular," she laughed. "Shopkeepers love it and some people are making them up to hang in their cars." Ruth thought that one up herself since she is bothered by excessive smoke.

All needlework is becoming more prominent and popular because people are staying home much more, she continued.

MRS. DOWNS CARRIES her work with her even when she is on the move, particularly whenever she is flying.

During a flight from Arizona to Chicago, Ruth taught the teenager seated beside her to needlepoint, claiming that anyone can learn the basic stitch in 10 to 15 minutes. Her youngest pupil was 6 and her clientele includes both men and women.

"Men are needlepointing for the same reasons as women. They find it relaxing and it is something that they can do that will be worthwhile and long lasting.

"The real excitement in needlepoint comes with the endless line of colors now available in yarns and learning to use all the different stitches," she said.

THERE ARE 100 altogether though Mrs. Downs recommends learning the basic stitch first since it is always used as a filler. "But then one should graduate," she commented.

"It's nice to add a textured stitch sometimes though I recommend them only when they are able to enhance or improve a design."

In working out one's own pattern or choosing a kit, Mrs. Downs feels an individual should keep in mind what the piece will be used for, and how it can best complement a room if it will add to home decoration. Colors and mesh size should then also be selected accordingly.

"There appears to be a craze for Oriental designs right now," said Mrs. Downs, adding that a demand for specific designs appears to fluctuate with the news.

"SOUTHWEST designs are currently very popular in the Midwest, And for awhile, we had a demand for designs that were very Russian in feeling."

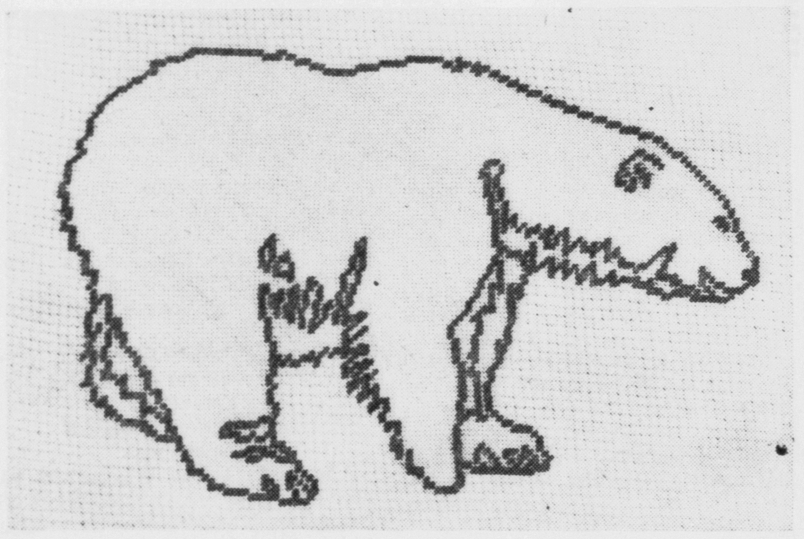
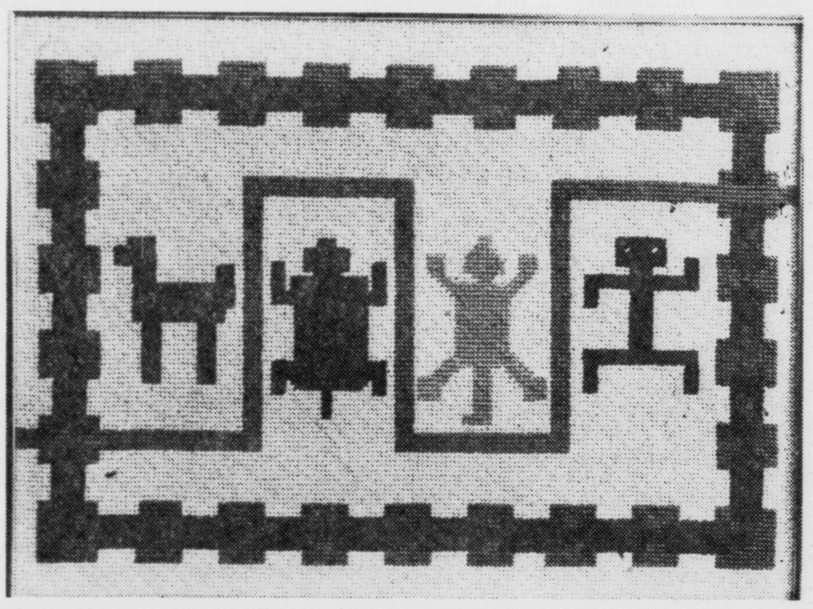
Medley



FROM THE RUTH DOWNS line is a polar bear finished in several different needlepoint stitches. Animal designs are quite popular today.



SOUTHWEST INDIAN designs are in particular demand in the Midwest, says Ruth Downs, who now has her own line of needlepoint patterns.

Indian artifacts 'in'

Indian artifacts newest collectible

with Grace Carolyn

If it's Indian, it's in! Suddenly Indian American antiques and collectibles are the most popular things around, and this is one instance where the interest has traveled north and east, rather than the opposite directions, which is the way most antique fads go.

I recall that about three years ago, an antiques dealer from Albuquerque, N. Mex., came to a local show and not only couldn't sell his Indian artifacts and jewelry, but couldn't even get anyone to stop and look at them. I talked to him for a time, and he decided he was "too soon" in this area and that he had better stick closer to home.

I am speaking primarily of the southwest Indian crafts, particularly those or the Navajo, Hopi and Zuni. All Indian items are good, but these are the "big three." In jewelry, especially, they have cornered the market with their silver and turquoise, coral, abalone shell and other semi-precious stones.

A HANDMADE "squah blossom" necklace inlaid with chunks of turquoise sells for several hundred dollars, Navajo rugs are being snapped up for wall decor and baskets of all designs are very popular. Some early Indian baskets, those which date from the 1700s or 1800s had price tags in the hundreds of dollars at a big antiques show last spring. I'm sure it would be difficult to distinguish a really old basket from a newer one, unless one has studied the characteristics and designs and become an "expert."

In the San Ildefenso tribe in New Mexico, there lives an ancient little lady who can take a bit of clay, mold it into a vessel in the time-honored coiled spiral method, inscribe it with her name, Maria, and be certain it will find its way into a museum or wealthy collection.

Maria, an octogenarian, is famous for her distinctive "black on black" pottery, which is exhibited in museums throughout the nation. Others in her tribe, and in neighboring tribes, are almost equally well known. These potteries are not all antique, although some of Maria's, by reason of her advanced age, are from many years ago. Persons who traveled in the Southwest many years ago may have picked up some of these pieces as souvenirs and now have something of great value. So that your confidence in garage sales remains unshaken, I will tell you that a lucky friend found a piece of San Ildefonso pottery, possibly Maria, at a sale for 50 cents a couple of years ago.

THE SILVER and turquoise jewelry dates from around the turn of the century, but many younger people have turned to the art and are enjoying its renewed interest. These new pieces are sold in department stores, jewelry stores, through home sales and even at some antiques shops, although they are in no way antique.

I will furnish the name of a person who deals directly with the Indian craftsmen if you send a stamped, self-addressed envelope or phone number to Grace Carolyn Dahlberg, in care of Paddock Publications, Box 280, Arlington Heights, Ill. 60006. The woman to whom I refer makes regular trips to the Southwest and has a fine collection of beautifully handcrafted pieces for sale.

'Jaws' a contemporary parallel of Moby Dick

"JAWS," by PETER BENCHLEY
Doubleday, $6.95

From the opening description of the great fish swimming through the dark sea, "Jaws" moves in jarring, vicious sweeps that have the reader drawing his breath in horror. This book may do more to make sea bathing unpopular than a dozen oil spills.

One summer a great white shark begins attacking swimmers off the shore of a small Long Island resort town. Town officials worry more about how it will harm summer business than swimmers' safety.

The shark attacks continue and the police chief decides he will catch the fish. With the help of a wily old fisherman and a scientist from an oceanography laboratory, he patrols the shore in search of the killer fish.

The author tosses in the usual ingredients of current fiction — a mismatched middle-aged couple, an adulterous affair and the Mafia — like a chef seasoning a salad to the popular taste. He does, however, draw a nasty picture of a natural scientist, which is a nice switch these days.

The book is dominated by the menacing white shark, 5,000 pounds of killer. He glides mindlessly through the sea, doing what he was created to do — survive by savage destruction. Unlike man, his motives are simple and uncomplicated. In his realm he is indestructible and man should beware of intruding.

There are too many Moby Dick parallels to be accidental, including an Ahab-like sea captain who swears to get the big fish. The final chase is simultaneously exhilarating and horrifying in this inventive, absorbing book.

"JAMES MADISON," edited by Merill D. Paterson
Harper and Row, $15

This is one of those "modern" biographies that mainly use the author's own words, with an editor tying together the events for continuity. Madison was one of the most brilliant men of a brilliant age and the technique permits an intimacy of detail that most biographies lack. Through Madison's eyes we see the dramatic span of history from the Constitutional Convention to the War of 1812.

"THE LIMITS OF CORPORATE RESPONSIBILITY," by NEIL W. CHAMBERLAIN
Basic Books, $10

A realistic, disquieting study that says society cannot look to rich corporations for help in solving social problems. Chamberlain's point is that industrial chief executives better understand an auditorium full of howling stockholders than a half dozen representatives of a minority group. The former he understands and feels responsibility toward; the latter he can't fathom.

"FALLS THE SHADOW," by REGINA ROSS
Delacorte, $6.95

This spy story starts out with the hero and heroine at logger-heads, although with the same general end in view — to find where in Romania an English intelligence agent is being kept prisoner, and where the Holy Crown of St. Stephen is hidden. It's a fast moving story with a twisty end.

"MYSELF, CHRISTOPHER WREN," by DAVID WEISS
Coward, McCann & Geoghegan, $15

Architect Christopher Wren lived 90 years and helped transform 17th Century London into one of the world's most strikingly beautiful cities. Weiss, an old hand at biographical novels, handles with marked skill the cast of personalities from Isaac Newton to Van Dyck. Wren's epitaph in St. Paul's Cathedral sums it up: "If you seek a monument, look about you."

"MAD AND MAGNIFICENT YANKEES," by VARIOUS AUTHORS
Yankee, $9.50

A random collection of eccentrics who lived or worked in New England are collected here. Whether it was the weather, their puritan heritage or what, these states do go in for individualism — the first man to bring ice to the Caribbean, the one-woman Coast Guard station, or the lady who "knocked out" John L. Sullivan. At least they aren't dull.

Origin of a name

Alexander M. Poniatoff, founder of Ampex, the pioneer in magnetic recording, came to the United States from Russia in the middle 1940s and developed audio and videotape recorders as we know them today.

The name Ampex is derives from the initials of his name and "ex" was added to stand for "excellence."

Rick Nelson shifts accent to rock

Playback
by Tom Von Malder

Rick Nelson and his Stone Canyon Band continue to get better with each album, making their newest, "Windfall" (MCA Records), their best.

Nelson, who several years ago left behind the antiseptic, teeny-bopper rock he was so successful with in the late '50s and early '60s, continues to mold out his own pleasing patch of the country-rock scene. But more and more the accent has shifted to the rock and this time out there's a bit of jazz flavor to the album.

Last year, Nelson's "Garden Party" song about appearing at a rock revival show became a bit hit even though the album of the same name, which was even better than the single, never really made it big. This time, the Stone Canyon Band has three new members. Only Nelson and pedal steel guitarist Tom Brumley carry over. (Brumley's music is one of the best parts of "Windfall." He is one of the better pedal steel guitarists and played with Buck Owens for several years.)

Rick Nelson

THE ALBUM BEGINS with "Legacy," a loving nature song, and then kicks into one of its strongest songs — "Someone To Love," written by Nelson. With the accent on the bass, drums and fuzz guitar, the song rocks in a slow, steady way. It is one of the songs you keep humming after you've heard the album.

The aforementioned "Legacy" is one of four songs written by Dennis Larden, the band's new lead guitarist. The best of these is "Evil Woman Child" with its bit of funk and the plaintive "Don't Leave Me Here," which ends side one.

Larden also co-wrote the title song with Nelson, and like "Legacy" the song shows a concern for nature and her rhythms. It ends the album.

Two other fine songs are "Wild Nights in Tulsa," a very tasteful rocker, and "I Don't Want To Be Lonely Tonight," with its fine Nelson vocal. They are the only two songs not written by band members.

UNSURPRISINGLY, Barbra Streisand's newest album is named after her current monster hit, "The Way We Were." Her performance on the tune, from the movie of the same name in which she starred with Robert Redford, ranks with her all-time best, "People" and that was such a long, long time ago.

This new album (on Columbia Records) is her best in many years. Skillfully, her material has been chosen to appeal to all age groups. On the first side she goes to Stevie Wonder for "All In Love Is Fair," to Carole King for "Being At War With Each Other" (and another standout performance) and to Paul Simon for "Something So Right" (which is done very delicately).

Side two is aimed at an older audience, but it can still be enjoyed by the young. Romance is the theme as she does a trio of songs by A. and M. Bergman and Michele Legrand. There is even Irving Berlin's "How About Me."

In addition to the fine mix of today's music and yesterday's nostalgia, there are 10 sterling Streisand performances. It is a beautiful, moody album.

SUPER BRITISH ROCK group Yes seldom disappoints, but that is basically what "Tales From Topographic Oceans" (Atlantic records) does.

Only on the last side of this four-sided effort does the group live up to the brilliance of its previous two albums, "Yessongs" and "Close To the Edge." This is probably because the fourth or "Ritual" side is the most cohesive, most lyrical of all.

The remaining three sides have their good moments, but they are too scattered. The album is based on a footnote in Paramhansa Yoganada's "Autobiography of a Yogi" and the four-part Shastric sciptures — so say album cover notes. Perhaps the idea of searching for truth and God through man's past and prehistory is a bit too obtuse for a rock album.

Far too deep this set suffers from a bad case of the bends. But there is enough good music to make it worth several listenings (especially if you listen only to side four).

Leonard Nimoy at Brentano's

Entr'acte

"Star Trek" fans will have the opportunity to meet one of their favorite characters in person.

Leonard Nimoy, who formerly played Mr. Spock on the "Star Trek" television series, will sign autographs of his new paperback book, "You and I," at Kroch's and Brentano's in Woodfield Shopping Center Saturday. Nimoy will be at the book store from 1:30 to 3 p.m.

"You and I" is a love story told in poetry and photographs.

Textile buffs form a guild

Anyone working in textiles or interested in them is invited to join Countryside Art Center's Fibers Guild (Fiber Freaks). The newly formed group meets the fourth Thursday of the month from 9-11:30 a.m.

The guild held its first meeting Jan. 17 with 13 prsons representing interests in stitchery, basketry, weaving and macrame. The next meeting Feb. 28 will be a source-of-supply session.

"To steal ideas from each other" is the stated purpose of the Fibers Guild, according to Sherry Boemmel, Prospect Heights, but the Fiber Freaks also mean to encourage one another and to exchange information on techniques, sources, books and shows, she added.

PART OF EACH meeting will be devoted to discussing one another's work. Each session also will have a special area of concentration. A table will be designated for sharing books, sources and other information.

Workshops will be planned with Countryside Center's education department on an optional basis, said Mrs. Boemmel. Tuition will be charged for these.

Persons interested in more information may contact Mrs. Boemmel, 253-4528.

Cabaret entertains at DPTG meeting

Des Plaines Theatre Guild's newly formed Cabaret Theatre will perform at Wednesday's membership meeting in Guild Playhouse, starting at 8:30 p.m.

The program will be directed by Steve Strong of Chicago, assisted by Bonnie Master of Lincolnwood.

Wednesday's production is an hour of musical numbers and skits around the theme of "Love and Marriage." Performers include Kelli Phillips, Tina Stefanos, Arthur Romanelli and Bert Simmons of Des Plaines; Kaye Peet of Mt. Prospect; Fran Pitchford of Arlington Heights; Pat Catsakis and Betty and Rudy Kandlbinder of Palatine; and Barbara Hefty of Barrington.

The Cabaret Theatre is a touring company, sponsored by DPTG, which will perform a variety of skits, songs and entertainment for clubs and organizations. Bookings ar handled by Miss Master, 674-8214.

Damon best of the show

by GENIE CAMPBELL

Singer JIMMY DAMON is becoming quite well known throughout the Chicago area and his current performance at the BLUE MAX of the REGENCY HYATT O'HARE can only add to his growing reputation.

Preceding comedian RED BUTTONS on stage, Damon displays an exciting, memorable sound that could easily match some of the "big names." And his hometown personality and charm is pure Chicagoan. He doesn't have to pretend to enjoy being here because he lives here himself.

Numbers like "She's a Lady" and "Sweet Gypsy Rose Lee" show off his contemporary arrangements though I prefer something a little more off the beaten track like "Send A Little Love My Way" or gentle "Wild Flowers."

And since the last time I caught his show almost a year ago, Damon has greatly improved his appearance. That red suede suit doesn't hurt either. It's much more effective than a plain tuxedo. Damon for sure, is a safe bet wherever he's singing.

I looked forward to seeing RED BUTTONS live, though his material is spotty. Sometimes I roared and sometimes I couldn't catch the humor. His ethnic jokes are overplayed and outmoded today though his digs at the gasoline crisis and general state of economy are right up to date.

"The cost of living has gone up so much that now cemeteries are charging by the week. One missed payment and you're out."

Or, "I know a plumber who doesn't even make house calls anymore. You have to bring your toilet to his office."

He summarizes the whole gas situation by making up his own words to "What Kind of Fool Am I?" and also sings, with Racquel Welch in mind, original lines to "The Impossible Dream."

He takes off on several other celebrities and finishes his act with impressive inpersonations of Al Jolson and James Cagney.

GERALDINE has less than two miles to drive to ARLINGTON PARK TOWERS where she is currently entertaining through March 9.

Discovered right around the corner in Schaumburg, she is by far one of the most enjoyable and talented female vocalists to be featured in the TOP OF THE TOWERS penthouse restaurant . . . if you like a cross between Lisa Minnelli and Helen Reddy. And I happen to.

Geraldine is sexy in a liberated sense. The similarity in appearance between her and Lisa is real, though Geraldine has the charisma to be her own woman. Anyhow, she affirms, "I looked this way longer than she has."

Geraldine not only has a strong voice, but she is very talented on the guitar. She has something for everyone including a nostalgic dance demonstration from the '60s. Remember the slop, frug, funky chicken and the jerk? So does she.

I appreciate her choice of "Let Me Try Again" to replace the nightclub favorite "My Way" and also her arrangement to "Me and Bobby McGee." From the '40s she picks out "Coney Island."

Geraldine is not fragile or meek. She puts life into the Towers, the kind that appeals to both young and older generations.

The celebrated production of "DA," now on stage at the IVANHOE THEATRE, features a Des Plaines resident in one of the principal roles. DAVIS HALL, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hall, plays young Charlie, the role he created when the comedy drama held its world premiere last summer in Olney, Md.

Davis is a gradute of Maine West High School and Northwestern University. He majored in speech and spent several years studying and working on stage in London.

His sister, Harriet, who has also appeared in several Chicago productions, is currently playing Andrea Moore in the soap opera "Somerset."

Davis Hall

"Da" has been extended at the Ivanhoe through March 24.

"WHAT ABOUT TODAY," a musical trio featuring songstress SUE KENT, is currently the entertainment attraction at CARSON INN NORDIC HILLS.

Located in suburban Itasca, Nordic Hills has one of the nicest hotel packages for winter weekends because there are activities outside as well as in. No, it's not the same as Colorado. But cross country skiing or tobogganing on the golf course is great considering the gasoline shortage. And the wooded view from the guest rooms lets you think you're far from the Midwest even if you're less than an hour from Chicago. The weekend is also one of the most reasonably priced.

Duo-pianists in concert at Harper Thurs. night

Internationally acclaimed duo-pianists Melvin Stecher and Norman Horowitz will perform at Harper College in Palatine next Thursday.

The 8 p.m. concert will be held in the college center.

Public admission is $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students. Harper students and staff are admitted free with their I.D. cards. Tickets may be purchased through the student activities office.

Traveling with two perfectly matched Steinways in a unique "music van," the duo-pianists performed in 70 cities of the U.S. and Canada and tour Europe each season.

Music educators as well as performers, the team founded the Stecher and Horowitz School of Music in Cedarhurst, Long Island, in 1960. Also composers, their series "Learning to Play" and "Playing to Learn" is used for music teaching. Their most recent publication is "Rock with Jazz," written for piano students.

In addition to their concert schedule, Stecher and Horowitz conduct piano workshops throughout the country. They also have recorded.

Their program at Harper will include works by Barok, Brahms, Chopin, Infante, Lutoslawski, Pasquini and Saint-Saens.

PLAYING MAN and wife in the comedy "Send Me No Flowers," opening tonight at Schaumburg Township Library, are Harding Stephens and Sandy Reimann. Festival Theatre is presenting the play this weekend and next. The library is at 32 W. Library Lane. Tickets and reservations, 882-1894.

'Steambath' next at Pub Playhouse

"Steambath," hailed as a bizarre sensation when it played off-Broadway several seasons ago, is the next attraction at the Pub Playhouse in the Holiday Inn on Rand Road, Mount Prospect.

The controversial adult comedy opens an eight-week run March 1 with John Gould as the steambath attendant.

The play by Bruce Jay Friedman deals with strictly adult subjects, God, death, racism and sex, and four-letter words predominate. Towels are the basic costumes.

The play will run Friday and Saturday nights through April 27. Tickets are $4. More information is available by calling 498-0632.

Members of arts and crafts classes in the recreation program at Cambridge-on-the-Lake condominium community in Buffalo Grove will hold an art show and musical afternoon Sunday from 2-5. The public is invited.

Entertaining with music will be Laurel Holzinger, pianist; Bill Holzinger, pianist; and Clif Drozda, violinist.

Art and craft work on display will include ceramics, painting, sculpture and jewelry. Sally Witzke is the instructor and recreational director of the complex located at 221 Dundee Road.

'Butterflies Are Free' cast announced by Guild Players

The Guild Players of Hoffman Estates announced the cast for "Butterflies Are Free," second play of their 16th season.

The Leonard Gershe comedy will be staged March 8, 9, 15 and 16 at Hoffman Estates Barn Theater on Higgins Road, just west of intersections 58 and 72. Mrs. Iris Tompkins of Lombard is director.

The play stars Walter Biedeier of Northbrook as Donald Bake, the blind lad attempting to make a life of his own away from his doting mother, and Barbara Ashby of Schaumburg as Jill Tanner, the girl who teaches Don what it means to be free.

Jan Boutelle of Hoffman Estates plays Mrs. Baker, the boy's over-protective mother, and Oakley Masten of Schaumburg is Ralph Austin, the producer of underground, off-Broadway stage plays.

ALTHOUGH THIS is his first appearance for Guild Players, Walter Biedeier had roles in "King Lear" and "Our Town" at Culver-Stockton College, and in "Arsenic and Old Lace" with the Canton Festival Theater in Canton, Mo.

Among Barbara Ashby's credits are "Macbeth," "Little Murders" and "House of Bernada Alba," with Friends of The Library and "Once Upon a Mattress" with the Schaumburg Festival Theater.

Janet Boutelle has been a diligent backstage worker with The Guild Players for several years. Among her recent on-stage credits are "Forty Carats," "Night of January 16th" and "Streetcar Named Desire."

Oakley Masten also makes his debut with The Guild Players. He lists his past performances with Indiana theater groups in "H.M.S. Pinafore," "Our Town," "Cheaper by The Dozen" and "Under the Yum-Yum Tree."

Ticket information and reservations may be obtained by calling Louise Parenti, 529-9262.

CITY SAFARI

If you're looking for wildlife, you might go to the zoo, the woods or out into the country. But did you ever think to look for it in the city?

"City Creatures" is the new spring journey for children at the Field Museum. This free do-it-yourself project combines museum exploration with outside activities to acquaint youngsters with animals that make their homes in the city.

Journey sheets may be picked up at museum entrances. They are free to all boys and girls who can read and write. "City Creatures" begins March 1 and continues through May 31.

In Hall 3 you'll also find several special exhibits: A Sense of History (showing the museum's history), A Sense of Discovery (showing examples of research done by museum scientists) and A Sense of Wonder (showing the association of literature and nature)

Museum hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and to 9 p.m. on Fridays. Admission is $1 for adults, 35 cents for children 6 to 17 years and $2.50 for a family. Admission on Fridays is free. The museum is on Roosevelt Road at Lake Shore Drive in Chicago.

It's Pancake Day at 'Y' Saturday

A pancake eating contest at 2:30 Saturday afternoon at Northwest Suburban YMCA, Des Plaines, is the special attraction of the "Y" Auxiliary's 12th annual Pancake Day.

The contest will be divided into two age groups, 12-15 and 16-19. Prizes go to winners in each. All that's needed to enter are a ticket and a big appetite for pancakes.

The auxiliary's annual pancake feast features the flapjacks, sausages, coffee and milk served continuously from 8:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.

Tickets are $1.25 at the door all day Saturday. The "Y" is located at 300 E. Northwest Hwy., Des Plaines. Proceeds will go to the "Y" building fund.

Old-fashioned supper party for Questers

Members of Dunton Chapter of Questers will entertain their husbands Sunday at an old-fashioned supper party. Feature of the turn of the century party will be a barbershop quartet composed of four of the husbands, games and other entertainment.

Mrs. Robert Swim, 207 S. Stratford, Arlington Heights, will be hostess for the 5:30 p.m. party aided by a committee headed by Mrs. Robert Bates and Mrs. Morris Shipman.

Area or wall-to-wall buyer's choice

Several letter writers have posed the same general problem — whether to stick with area rugs or go wall-to-wall with carpeting. One asked if wall-to-wall will be in "style" for any length of time. My checking indicates that wall-to-wall carpeting is being used more than ever, possibly because of the easier maintenance. But whether it's wall-to-wall or area rugs is purely a matter of personal preference. Both arrangements will be around for a long time

Dear Dorothy: This came from my mother-in-law, with reference to dogs attacking garbage set out in plastic bags: Take the bag outside and spray with insecticide. Wet it down with any good roach killer and after it dries dogs will leave it alone. Because the lid of our garbage can doesn't fit too well, I also spray the top of the garbage in the can. This seems to discourage insects, and probably rodents, as well as dogs. Be sure you don't stand downwind while spraying and wash up when you're through. — Mrs. D. R. Webb.

Bet both of us hear from the environmentalists on this one!

Dear Dorothy: With certain prints, I like to use colorless nylon thread but have been stumped on how to tie a knot. Is there some technique a neophyte sewer should know? — Amy Lavater

I just tie a knot and cut off the end. When through with a seam, I sew back and forth a few times, then cut off that end.

Dear Dorothy: When you make chili, do you buy a specific grade of canned tomatoes? — Doris Hostetter Sure do. I try to get either U. S. Grade B or C. They're more likely to fall apart in cooking — which is just what I want in chili.

Dance to the Jelly Roll Blues

A fun evening of banjo music, dancing and singing is promised guests at the Downtown Strutters Ball. The party, sponsored by Arlington Heights Junior Woman's Club, will be held from 8:30 p.m. to midnight Friday, March 8, in Our Lady of the Wayside, 432 W. Park, Arlington Heights.

The Buffalo Shufflers banjo band will provide music for singing and dancing. A dance contest, barbershop quartet and souvenir pictures taken in a Roaring '20s setting are also on the entertainment agenda.

Admission is $3 with drinks and refreshments available. Club members will be selling tickets at the Buffalo Grove Shopping Center, Dundee and Arlington Heights Road, from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, March 2. Tickets may also be obtained from club members or by calling 394-2986.

Day of skiing for newcomers

This month's Ladies Day Out activity for members of Hoffman-Schaumburg Newcomers Club is a day of skiing Wednesday at the Playboy Club on Lake Geneva.

Newcomers who plan to go on the outing should make reservations with Mrs. Charles Byers, 882-6964. Cost is $18 per person.

The ski trip is sponsored by the Schaumburg Park District.

Thrift shop seeks closet cast-offs

The Women's Auxiliary of Northwest Community Hospital asks homemakers to keep the auxiliary's thrift shop, The Pink Box, in mind when spring cleaning. The shop can use lamps, tables, bric-a-brac, clothes and small appliances.

Donations will be accepted during shop hours, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.; and also on Mondays from 9 a.m. to noon.

The Pink Box is located at 407 N. Vail, Arlington Heights, 398-1272.

Box office bonanza

Universal Pictures announced that "American Graffiti" has become the second most successful box office sttraction — to "Airport" — in the studio's history.

Truffaut film festival at Harper

A Truffaut Film Festival will be presented during March at Harper College in Palatine. The five French films, directed by Francois Truffaut, are provided with English subtitles.

Showings will be on March 5, 7, 12, 14 and 28, once at 12:15 p.m. in room E-106 and again at 8 p.m. in room A-241.

Public admission to each film showing is $1. Admission for Harper students and staff with ID card is 50 cents.

Truffaut's first feature-length film, "The 400 Blows," will be shown March 5. Taken from Truffaut's own experience, the story is about a 12-year-old boy, not loved at home or wanted at school, who sinks into a private and fugitive existence.

"Shoot the Piano Player" will be presented March 7. This film represents Truffaut's mastery of the medium and his wild and fanciful fascination for cinematic devices. It shows experiences of an internationally famous concert pianist who has become a piano player at a Paris cafe.

"JULES AND JIM," scheduled for March 12, is about a friendship between a German and a Frenchman and their 20 year love for the same woman. It evokes the romantic nostalgia of the period before World War I.

Adultery and the disintegration of a middle class marriage are dealt with in "The Soft Skin," to be shown March 14.

The final Festival film, "Two English Girls," is the only one of the collection made in color. The film follows the story of two sisters in love with the same man for seven years and his vacillation between them.

Ticket information may be obtained at the Student Activities Office, Harper College, Algonquin and Roselle Roads, Palatine 60067, 397-3000, ext. 242 or 243.

A Paddock review

'Pure As The Driven Snow' not suited for everyone

by GENIE CAMPBELL

Village Theatre seems to have provided everything for its present melodrama being staged at the Guild Playhouse in Des Plaines. Garters are being sold before each performance as souvenirs, each act is preceded by several vaudeville routines and root beer and pretzels are served between acts.

Even so "Pure As the Driven Snow" or "A Working Girl's Secret" caters to certain tastes. You can laugh out loud, applaud the hero, boo the villain and cry with the heroine. Many opening night patrons did, along with most of the children who probably never had opportunity before to see an old-fashioned melodrama.

But there were others who fell asleep. And I can't say I blame them either. A one-act melodrama presented in cabaret fashion such as VT did at the Future of America Fair last summer is funny. A three-act melodrama that has to establish a host of characters and build up several small subplots becomes somewhat tedious . . . except to the kids, of course. A black-capped villain with a handlebar moustache will always please them.

EVEN SO everyone would have to appreciate the work that went into this production. The set was expertly designed by Wendy Gruen and the costumes are beautiful, right in tune with the period. Randi Behl was in charge of the wardrobe.

Enjoying themselves most probably were the actors who didn't have to worry about forgetting a line or making it look real. That didn't matter so long as there were plenty of gestures, flourishes and fainting spells.

Our hero is Chuck Sears who plays Leander Longfellow, brawny but brainless, a stocky Dudley Do Right who makes his living by being the superintendent of a pickle factory. His smile melts all the women.

SEARS SHOWS his muscles and does his part to woo the young maid. And, of course, protect her from the mean old villain, Mortimer Frothingham, played by Hank deGroh, who also has his role down pat.

No one can help but be amused when he stalks across the stage and pretends to hide behind a wooden hat rack. And you guessed it . . . each time he saunters by, Mortimer switches hats, twirls his moustache and rolls his eyes.

My favorite, however, is Alice Olriksen, who is outstanding as the sweet heroine, Purity Dean.

While many of the characters are somewhat stiff in their deliveries at first, Alice acts as though she had been playing helpless heroines all her life.

NINE OTHER eccentric characters make up the cast of "Pure As the Driven Snow" that will again be staged this weekend (tonight and Saturday) at the Guild Playhouse.

But don't forget the kids. They'll enjoy it most of all.

Art League fair at Randhurst

Mount Prospect Art League will conduct its second Randhurst Art Fair Saturday and Sunday during shopping center hours. Featured will be many outstanding local artists.

Joseph Stilp, art department chairman at Maine South High School, will judge the exhibition at 11 a.m. Saturday, awarding 12 ribbons in oil and acrylic, watercolor, and art construction. Stilp has a master's degree from the Art Institute of Chicago.

Pat Burgess, art fair chairman, may be called for further information at 259-5159 after noon.

Two fairs Sunday deal in psychics

Two psychic fairs are scheduled for the area Sunday, one at the Elk Grove Holiday Inn, the other at Arlington Park Towers Hotel. Admission for both is $1.

Admission at the Holiday Inn includes lectures and demonstrations on hypnosis. Private readings are $3 and astrology charts, $5. Hours are 1 to 8 p.m. Evelyn Burke, 437-5338, may be called for further information.

Fair hours at the Towers are 11 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Yoga lectures and demonstrations at noon and 5 p.m. are free. Hypnosis at 4 and 7 p.m., exorcism at 3 p.m., psychometry at 6 p.m. and psychic phenomena at 1 p.m. are $1.

Readings will be given by astrology, rocks, candles, palmistry and ESP.

Lasses in love make happy news

Judith Braiske

The engagement of Judith Anne Braiske to James G. Starr, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Starr of Arlington Heights, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Braiske Jr., 2310 Fremont St., Rolling Meadows. An October wedding is planned.

The bride-to-be, a '72 graduate of Forest View High Schooll, works for A. M. Corp., Schaumburg. Her fiance also graduated from Forest View, in 1968, and is with McKeown-Phalin Chevrolet in Glen Ellyn.

Holly Schulze

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Schulze of Palatine announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Holly Elizabeth, to Michael Johns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Johns of Darien, Ill. The wedding is set for April.

Since attending Arlington High School and Purdue University and graduating in '72 from the University of Illinois, Holly is assistant production manager for PPA Publications, Des Plaines. Michael graduated in '70 from the U of I and is with Grabel-American, Palatine.

Cynthia Girard

Mr. and Mrs. G. James Girard of Waukegan have announced their daughter Cynthia's engagement to Craig Yost, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Yost of Palatine.

Cynthia and Craig have chosen May 18 for their wedding day. They will be married in St. Dismas Catholic Church, Waukegan.

Susan Wiley

An Arlington Heights couple, Susan E. Wiley and John C. Helmer, are engaged and planning to be married in February next year.

Susan is the daughter of Mrs. Ellen R. Wiley, 1329 N. Race Ave., and John's parents are the James E. Helmers of 716 N. Gibbons Ave.

The bride-to-be attended Sacred Heart of Mary High School and Harper College. She is a secretary for General Finance Corp., Evanston. John is also with General Finance, as assistant manager in Palatine, and attended Prospect High School and Southern Illinois University.

Services in area March 1 for World Day of Prayer

The month of March opens next Friday with a World Day of Prayer featuring services of worship sponsored by women over the entire globe.

In the United States, the observances are arranged by Church Women United.

Women of Protestant, Orthodox and Roman Catholic faiths, motivated by their unity in Christ, will pray together and participate in an offering which goes into a fund called Intercontinental Mission. This mission fulfills the Church Women United's goals of justice and peace through approved agencies.

THERE ARE FIVE services announced in the northwest suburbs to mark the day. The public is welcome to any of them.

St. Paul United Church of Christ, 144 E. Palatine Road, Palatine, will hold one at 1 p.m. The Rev. Arnold Koriath, associate pastor, will speak. Co-chairmen Mrs. Edward Dannenberg and Mrs. John Plow will have babysitting available and provide refreshments after the service.

Our Redeemer Methodist Church, Schaumburg and Springinsguth Roads, Schaumburg, will offer a 1:30 p.m. service. Mrs. Ray Avischious of St. Paul Lutheran Church, Mount Prospect, will be the guest speaker. There will be babysitting and refreshments. Mrs. Dean Wooden and Mrs. G. McDaniel are co-chairmen.

An evening service next Friday will be held at Northwest Covenant Church, 300 N. Elmhurst Road, Mount Prospect. The eight o'clock program features the Rev. Eldon Toll, minister of education at the church, and co-chairmen are Mrs. Archie Hampton and Mrs. Wayne Rosenquist.

MAGNUS FARM and Plum Grove Nursing Home will offer afternoon services March 1.

At Magnus Farm, 801 E. Central Road, Arlington Heights, the worship hour begins at 1 p.m. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Ashby Gibbons of Peace Reformed Church, Mount Prospect.

The service at Plum Grove Nursing Home, 24 S. Plum Grove Road, Palatine, is at 2:30. Mrs. Leonard Dicke of Our Savious Lutheran Church, Arlington Heights, will speak and will show a film of a Sunday school class in Okinawa.

The prayer service itself is written each year by women of one particular country and then used in all participating 168 countries over the world. This year the women of Japan are preparing the order. Their theme is "Make Us Builders of Peace."

Additional information on any of the areawide services can be obtained from Mrs. Donald Hoeck, president of Church Women United, Northwest Cook County, at 255-4519.

MODEL DAG SVARC gets runway tips from Mrs. William Parry, co-chairman of the Feb. 28 "Fashions for Funds," a dinner show at the Casa Royale, Des Plaines, featuring men's and women's fashions. Sponsored by Maine West Mother's Club, the show will provide scholarships for deserving seniors.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE – Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

The result

Spassky still primary threat to Fischer

Shelby Lyman on chess

At this moment, Boris Spassky appears to be the No. 1 obstacle to Bobby Fischer's would-be "Millennium" reign as world champion. Not only has Fischer been dangerously inactive but Spassky has continued his recent show of superb form as he demolished Robert Byrne in their recent match.

Byrne may have sat down to play the third game of that match with some optimism. He had drawn with Boris in the first two games. But sensitive observers were keenly aware that he had been dangerously on the defensive in those games with both white and black.

Diagram 1

The decisive moment came without warning. Our first diagram shows the position reached after Byrne's (white's) 19th move. Robert has just innocently played B-N5, answering the threatened pawn capture of his knight with a direct attack on Spassky's queen. Spassky shocked most observers, especially Byrne, by playing 19 . . . PxN and Byrne, lest he be a piece down, played 20. BxQ. But after Spassky's simple . . . QRxB, a quick examination showed that Byrne was probably lost, although the ex-world champion had indeed sacrificed his queen for two minor pieces.

The crisscross fire of the two black bishops (i.e., threat of 21. NxP, 22. PxNP, and 23. N-B6 check on the one hand and simply QBxBP, at some point, on the other) and the power of the centralized black rooks left Byrne with a thankless and probably hopeless task of direct defense.

Rather than face the forthcoming onslaught, Byrne immediately returned the queen as shown in our second diagram. After 21. RPxP, NxP, Byrne played 22. PxP?!, which allowed Spassky's next move, the obvious . . . RxQ. With consistent technique Boris thereafter used his two-bishop vs. rook advantage to bring the win home.

Spassky's queen sacrifice was apparently a decisive psychological blow. For in the very next game, Byrne followed uncharacteristically weak play in the opening with an ungrandmasterly blunder. In the position given in the third diagram, Robert went haywire and played 16 . . . P-N4. There ensued . . . 17. PxP, PxP; 18. RxR, RxR; 19. BxNP,; NxP; 20. NxN, BxN; 21. QxB and our last position was reached.

Diagram 4

Byrne, to his embarrassment, could not play his planned 21 . . . Q-N3 check and 22 . . . QxB regaining the piece, as Spassky had the simple 23. QxR check (Byrne's oversight). Robert played on some eight more moves but might as well have resigned immediately.

Boris Spassky will now meet the "enfant terrible," Anatole Karpov, another Herculean labor on the road to Fischer. Byrne will merely start all over again. Hopefully he'll remind himself of his historic qualifying performance in Leningrad, and remember that Spassky himself had even worse moments against Fischer.

You and your taxes

IRS again streamlines federal income tax forms

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of five articles designed to save you some money. The guidelines are from the Commerce Clearing House of Chicago, a national authority on tax law.

During the past several years, the Internal Revenue Service has made important changes in the returns and supplemental schedules and forms required of individual taxpayers, and this trend continues for 1973.

Here is a sketch of some of the more important 1973 changes:

Form 1040A, the "short form" income tax return, which was reintroduced as a tax return for wage earners in 1972, can be used by more taxpayers in 1973. The Internal Revenue Service will allow wage earners who have dividend and interest income in addition to wages to file 1040A in every case.

In 1972, the use of Form 1040A was barred to wage earners who had more than $200 in either dividend or interest income. For 1973, this restriction is removed and wage earners, regardless of the amount of their dividend or interest income, may file Form 1040A if they otherwise meet the requirements for filing this form.

Another change that will permit more taxpayers to file Form 1040A for 1973 involves tax payments made by taxpayers in 1973. Taxpayers who made estimated tax payments during 1973, or who can deduct excess Social Security taxes that were withheld from two or more employers from their tax liabilities, will be able to use Form 1040A for 1973. For 1972, the use of 1040A was banned for a taxpayer who claimed a credit for estimated tax payments or excess Social Security tax deductions.

STILL ANOTHER important change is that the Internal Revenue Service, if the taxpayer wishes, will compute the tax on Form 1040A regardless of the amount of income reported on the form. For 1972, the IRS would compute the tax on Form 1040A only if the total income reported was $20,000 or less.

However, taxpayers should be aware that the use of Form 1040A can cost them unnecessary tax dollars even though they are otherwise eligible to use the form.

This is because a Form 1040A user is denied the right to itemize his personal deducations for medical expenses, interest, charitable contributions, and the like.

Nor may he deduct employe business expenses or take the sick pay exclusion.

ALSO: SPECIAL TAX credits are barred on Form 1040A. These include the retirement income credit, investment tax credit and credit for foreign taxes.

The taxpayer should weigh the loss of these items in determining whether he should file Short Form 1040A or the regular Form 1040.

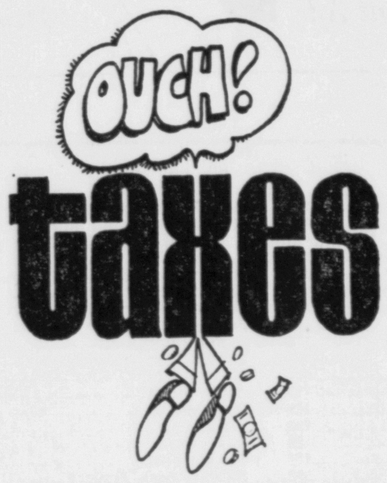
There are two significant changes to the 1973 regular or "long" form 1040. First, the familiar Schedule B — on which dividend and interest income was reported in prior years — has been eliminated. For 1973, a taxpayer simply lists his dividend and interest income on page 1 of Form 1040. Capital gain distributions usually received from mutual funds are reported in Part 1 of Form 1040 or on Schedule D of Form 1040 if the taxpayer has other capital gains and losses to report or uses the alternative tax computation.

THE SECOND important change on Form 1040 involves the requirement of a separate listing for certain charitable and medical expense deductions that are itemized on the 1973 Schedule A. Taxpayers no longer have to list the name and amount given to each charity where they have receipts, cancelled checks and money orders to substantiate the deduction.

Instead, taxpayers need list only the total amount of such deductions in Schedule A. Likewise, taxpayers do not have to list the names and amounts paid to each doctor or hospital for a medical deduction being claimed in 1973. Rather, the expenses are listed in total under the categories of doctors and dentists, and hospitals.

However, taxpayers must list other types of medical and dental expenses separately. These include hearing aid, denture, eye glass and transportation expenses.

TAXPAYERS WILL also find it easier to forward their tax dollars to the Presidential Election Campaign Fund under the "tax checkoff" system in 1973.



This optional feature allows taxpayers to designate that $1, one each for a husband and wife filing a joint return, is to go to the fund for use in the 1976 presidential election. This designation will not increase the amount in taxes that a person has to pay nor will it decrease any refund.

In 1972, this designation was made on a separate form.

For 1973, the designation is made directly on Forms 1040A and 1040. Furthermore, if a taxpayer forgot to make this designation on his 1972 income tax return, he can make the 1972 designation on his 1973 return.

NOT EVERYTHING classifies as taxable income. Many taxpayers receive income which is not taxable.

Some of these items are:

Accident and health insurance proceeds, unless reimbursing previously deducted medical expenses; annuities, to extent of investment, bequests and devises, board and lodging on the business premises and for the convenience of the employer. For the value of the lodging to be tax-free, the lodging must be accepted as a condition of employment. Damages recovered for personal injuries or sickness; disability payments, but not for loss of wages.

Also: dividends and unmatured life insurance policies; dividends up to $100; employe's death benefits up to $5,000; gifts and inheritances; interest on bonds of a state, city or other political subdivision, excluding certain municipal bond issues; value of lessee's improvements to lessor.

Also: life insurance proceeds paid on death of insured; old-age and survivors benefit payments under the Social Security Act or Railroad Retirement Act; scholarships and fellowships, limited where recipient is not a candidate for a degree; sick pay, limited to $75 or $100 per week depending upon percentage of regular pay; stock dividends or stock rights, unless disproportionate, or in lieu of money, or on preferred stock; tax refunds, state or federal, of taxes not previously deducted; unemployment benefits under Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act or state unemployment compensation laws; veteran's disability pensions, and Workmen's Compensation Acts payments.

Runaway Bay WIN
a week at Runaway Bay Hotel and Country Club via Air Jamaica
We are sending a couple of our residents to Jamaica this year in our 1st Annual Vacation Drawing. All residents (as of May 31st, 1974) will be eligible to win a fabulous vacation in our namesake location, Runaway Bay Hotel and Country Club in Jamaica. We'll fly you there via Air Jamaica, and you can relax amidst pure sand beaches, soft night breezes off the jewel-like sea, exotic birds, exotic food and exotic experiences.
Then you can come back home to an apartment with rich shag carpeting . . . a woodburning fireplace . . . roomy eat-in kitchen with the latest in appliances . . . plus our own little private resort area with heated pool, lighted tennis courts and clubhouse.

Containing 3.9 square miles.

The Petition further sets forth that an accurate map is attached thereto; that the area has residing therein more than 2,500 persons, including in excess of 2,000 persons living in immobile dwellings, to wit: approximately 13,000 persons: that pursuant to the provisions of Sections 2-2-5, 2-2-6 and 2-2-7 of the "Illinois Municipal Code, 1961," as amended, consent of existing municipalities within one and one-half miles of the proposed city need not be obtained in that the proposed city has more than 7,500 residents residing therein; that the name of the proposed city is "Prospect Heights," and that the total area of the proposed city is a contiguous territory not exceeding four square miles and is not already included within the corporate limits of any municipality.

The Petition prays that there be submitted to the electors residing within the limits of the proposed city, the question whether they will incorporate as a city under the Illinois Revised Statutes, "Illinois Municipal Code," as amended, and that the Court within five days after the Petition is filed enter an Order fixing the time for the hearing upon the Petition.

Notice is hereby given that a hearing upon the Petition has been set for March 13, 1974, at 10:00 o'clock a.m. in Room 1703 of the Chicago Civic Center located at Clark Street and Randolph Street, Chicago, Illinois. The hearing will be held before Judge Harry G. Comerford or any judge sitting in his stead.

Resolution

GRANTING EXTENSION OF TIME

WHEREAS, the President and Board of Trustees did on June 21, 1971 adopt Ordinance No. 71-47 granting a variation from a zoning ordinance of the Village of Arlington Heights to permit the establishment of a youth center in the existing one family dwelling at 2113 South Arlington Heights Road, and

WHEREAS, said zoning variation by its terms did expire at the end of 1972; and

WHEREAS, the President and Board of Trustees did on January 18, 1973 adopt a resolution granting an extension of the expiration of the zoning variation until the end of 1973; and

WHEREAS, the President and Board of Trustees have determined that the continued operation of said youth center commonly known as the "Lost and Found Coffee House" is in the best interest of the Village of Arlington Heights.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Arlington Heights:

SECTION ONE: That the variation granted on the property commonly known as 2113 South Arlington Heights Road for the purpose of operating a Christian Youth and Counsel Center be and it is hereby extended for a period of one year, that said variation shall expire at the end of 1974 or prior to that time if the organization represented by Mr. David C. Foster who operates said youth and counsel center shall cease to function in the operation of said center.

SECTION TWO: That this resolution shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication in the manner provided by law.

Happy Twirlers to dance for Washington's Birthday

HAPPY TWIRLERS

Despite the fact that Congress has changed the date of Washington's Birthday, the Happy Twirlers are still going to celebrate it toright at their dance, honoring the Father of Our Country. The usual "new figure" workshop, 8 to 8:30 p.m. will precede the intermediate (plus) dance at the First Congregational United Church of Christ Church, Graceland and Marion streets in Des Plaines.

Another "50 Basic" dance will be held Tuesday night, Feb. 26, at the Trinity Lutheran Church, 675 Algonquin Rd., Des plaines. All dancers who have covered the basics taught in the usual 10 lessons course of square dancing, are welcome. These dances are held every second and fourth Tuesday night of the month. The "extended basic" class continues the first, third and fifth Tuesday night at the same church. Callers are the Char-Lee Weilers.

ARLINGTON SQUARES

The Arlington Squares will observe the sentiments of the month with a Sweetheart Dance tonight at St. Simon Episcopal Church, 717 W. Kirchoff Rd., Arlington Heights. There will be an opportunity to earn the Kissing Kuzzin's badge, win a sweet prize and do lots of dancing.

Gerry and May Hoffberg will start the evening off at 8 p.m. for those who like to learn a new round dance, and Lenny Roos will square 'em up at 8:30 p.m. Round out the evening with sandwiches and dessert at 11 p.m. All area dancers are invited.

RAND RAMBLERS

Club caller Jim Stewart will be calling the squares tomorrow night, beginning at 8:30 p.m. for the Rand Ramblers when they meet at the Boy Scouts of America Building, 1622 N. Rand Rd., Arlington Heights, for another evening of square dancing.

All area dancers are welcome to join the Tetzlaffs in a half hour round dance session at 8 p.m. Dancing will continue until 11 p.m. Refreshments are served.

BUCKS AND DOES

Featured guest square dance caller will be Bob Poyner tomorrow night at the Bucks and Does Square Dance Club. All area square dancers are invited to square 'em up at 8 p.m. at Dempster Junior High School, just west of Elmhurst Road (Ill. Rte. 83) on Dempster Street in Mount Prospect.

Lee Simpson and Shirley Keniuk will cue rounds throughout the evening. Donation at the door is $2.50 per couple and includes refreshments served all evening and continuous dancing until 11 p.m. For more information, please call 529-3874 or 439-1959.

Perfect play for small slam

The correct play of a suit is likely to depend on how many tricks you need in it.

Today's hand is a classic example of a perfect safety play. You are in a six-heart contract and the contract is a cinch if you can avoid the loss of two heart tricks.

Your only worry is if you find all four in one hand and your safety play is to lay down your ace of hearts at trick two.

West shows out whereupon you lead a second heart to dummy's king and a third one back toward your jack.

Had East shown out you would lead a second heart toward dummy and hold West to one trump trick.

Suppose you were in seven. You would have no way to make that contract against certain holdings and would lose this time if you played your ace of hearts, but you would not make this play in a grand-slam contract.

You would lead a heart toward dummy's king. West would show out and you would have no trouble picking up east's trumps.

What should you do if West followed on the first heart. You would play to drop the queen next. With nine trumps this play gives you the best chance to pick up the whole suit.

Dramatic windups to North, South title chases

Showdown time in Mid-Suburban basketball

A Herald staff report

So it has come down to this.

The final night of regular Mid-Suburban League basketball action is at hand, and the North and South division races are still up in the air.

Tonight, anything can happen in the wild North as Arlington (10-2) entertains Hersey (9-3), and Wheeling (10-2) visits Fremd (4-8). Arlington, Hersey, and Wheeling all have a chance at the title.

In another game in the North, Palatine (4-8) plays at Rolling Meadows (1-11).

The South crown will go to Conant if the Cougars (10-2) can defeat Elk Grove (6-6) at home, but if they lose to the Grens, and Forest View (9-3) tops visiting Schaumburg (1-11), the Falcons will be champs.

Prospect (7-5) hosts Buffalo Grove (1-11) in the other South contest.

HERSEY AT ARLINGTON

The important stakes for this matchup, of course, involve the championship playoff and Arlington's yen to participate again. They were bumped off by Prospect last season and would like nothing better than another crack next Tuesday when the teams are paired off down the line.

"We know we're in for a tough battle but I have to like our position better than the others because we can, in a sense, control our own destiny right now," said Card coach George Zigman.

Zigman noted that Wheeling's hopes lie chiefly in a Hersey victory while any Hersey aspirations have to be coupled with a Wildcat defeat at Fremd tonight. "We, on the other hand, will have no one to blame but ourselves if we don't make the playoffs . . . it's out there waiting for us tonight if we want it bad enough," Zigman said.

Arlington will have playmaker-guard Jerry DeSimone back at full strength tonight after a recent bout with the flu, so the Cardinals' usual starting lineup figures to be intact.

"We played poorly against them last time out, and if we do it again, we'll lose again," Zigman remarked. "They're stronger now with (Clyde) Glass in the lineup, and they get sky high for this rivalry anyway."

Last year, Arlington won both games in the series, but the Huskies won four in a row before that. Hersey's a 6-5 overall edge.

"The formula is remote for us to win," Hersey coach Roger Steingraber admitted, "but we're going to be fighting to win our game, I promise you that."

Steingraber reports that his team is healthy and is in good spirits after losing a tough decision to Wheeling a week and one-half ago.

"I guess we have to be stronger with Glass," Steingraber said of his 6-6 soph forward who missed the first battle because of a sprained ankle." Clyde makes the Hersey front line even stronger with 6-11 Dave Corzine and 6-6 Rich Madison flanked at the center and forward slots.

"I guess their guards are a little quicker than ours, so a lot depends on how well we rebound against them. We came on strong after spotting them a lead (19-8) last time and I think the fact that we were able to limit them to one shot was the difference," Steingraber concluded.

WHEELING AT FREMD

The Wheeling Wildcats have done everything coach Ted Ecker could ask of them. They defeated Hersey last week in the big North division showdown, and tonight, if they beat Fremd, the 'Cats will boast an 11-2 conference mark. The two losses were against Arlington, and only if the Cardinals lose tonight against Hersey will Wheeling have a chance at the title.

Ecker's boys have shown that they can match any team on the basketball court on any given night. The Wildcats even downed Arlington at the Centralia tournament in December.

The front line of George Kaage, Bill Pickler, and Bob Westrich performed admirably against Hersey, confirming the notion that Wheeling, despite its size, can rebound with the taller teams. And Ecker's backcourt duo — Scott Keenan and Bill Kenney — showed that they may be the top playmakers in the area.

The Wildcat coach will have to guard against a letdown by his boys tonight, but that shouldn't be tough, considering the position Wheeling is in. The 'Cats can win their first MSL championship since 1968-69.

Fremd, meanwhile, has to be smarting from an 84-70 setback heaped upon them by neighboring Palatine last Friday. And since they are also still harboring memories of a 73-48 Wildcat romp in their last meeting, the Vikes do have some incentive to play the spoiler role in this scheduleld regular season finale.

Wheeling will have to concern themselves chiefly with Randy Weber, Fremd's deluxe ball handler and shooter who has been on a bucket rampage of late. He poured in 34 against Hersey two weekends ago and came back with 29 against the Pirates.

One more superlative effort by this Vike vet could hike him into serious contention for league individual scoring honors now being battled over by Elk Grove's Ken Pollitz, Arlington's Dan Donahue and Hersey's Dave Corzine.

ELK GROVE AT CONANT

The Conant Cougars have to win tonight to capture the South title. It's as simple as that.

"Our kids are ready," coach Dick Redlinger promised. "They're quite upset that it has gone this far."

The South race appeared to be all sewed up for the Cougars only a couple weeks ago, but successive losses to Prospect and Forest View changed matters dramatically. Now, if Elk Grove can topple Conant, and Forest View defeats Schaumburg, the Falcons will carry away the title.

It was two years ago almost to the day that Bill Parmentier's Grenadiers knocked Redlinger's Conant team out of the South title picture, and even though the Cougars went on to a Sweet Sixteen berth that year, they never forgot the "favor."

"Our kids have waited two years for revenge," the Cougar coach said. "We've wanted to win so bad — we'll go all out to beat them."

Redlinger's prime worry is Elk Grove's center, Ken Pollitz. The 6-foot-5 senior, who leads the MSL in scoring, notched 18 against Conant earlier in the year at Elk Grove, as the Grens fell by eight.

"We beat them last time with a 2-3 zone," Redlinger noted, "and we'll go with what we beat them with. When Pollitz gets the ball, we'll tend to get on him a little heavier.

"But we'll go with a zone all the way. We don't want our big kids to get in foul trouble."

Conant's front line — Steve Irion, Roger Sander, and Dave Sutherland — scored 50 to 56 points in the Cougars' first win over the Grens.

Three backcourt men are likely to see action for Conant in tonight's match—Jeff Ironside, Tom Bowen, and Lindsey Rose.

"Our kids are ready," Redlinger repeated.

The Cougars will have to be prepared for Elk Grove's pressure zone defense. The Grenadiers have allowed only 52.5 points per game inside the league this year — that's the third best figure in both divisions.

"It better stay that way or we'll be in trouble," said Bill Parmentier, referring to his team's defense. "We also have to rebound better than we did last time against Conant."

The Elk Grove coach has been getting better scoring balance from his starring five lately. In the Schaumburg win last week, Pollitz had 19 points, Steve Carson canned 15, and Greg Kelley and Bill Prince had 10 each. The other starter, Don Weadley, tossed in six points.

Arlington vs. Hersey on radio

The dramatic North Division meeting between Arlington and Hersey will be carried on WWMM-FM radio Friday evening.

Tipoff in the basketball headliner is set for approximately 8 p.m. at 92.7 on the FM dial.

WM Director of Sports Bud Kelly will call the play-by-play and Herald Sports Editor Bob Frisk will provide the color commentary.

Arlington and Wheeling stand 10-2 in the North race, and Hersey is 9-3. Hersey defeated Arlington in an earlier meeting, 70-63.

WM radio also will cover the Mid-Suburban championship game on Tuesday, Feb. 26, on a delayed basis. Because the Chicago Cougars play at home against Los Angeles that evening, the high school championship will be taped and broadcast at approximately 10 p.m. following the hockey game. See additional details next Monday and Tuesday on this delayed broadcast.

Kelly will be working the Cougars' hockey game Tuesday. The Mid-Suburban play-by-play will be handled by Frisk with color commentary by Herald Associate Sports Editor Paul Logan.

And what are you wearing tonight?

Kickin' it around

by BOB FRISK Sports Editor

There are those readers out there who will scream long and loud that this newspaper favors certain schools in its sports coverage.

No matter what you say, or how you present it, people can't believe our sportswriters are impartial.

"You favor Arlington," they screamed when Arlington was dominating sports in the Mid-Suburban League.

"You favor Hersey," they scream now as the Huskies set the pace in the overall sports standings, shooting for their third straight Paddock Cup.

It's funny but we're always accused of "favoring" the schools that win the titles and grab the headlines.

Nobody wants to believe it, but the sportswriters for the Herald are unbiased. What other sane policy is there to follow in an area of such sensitivity? We have to be unbiased. We're not nuts.

We play up the teams that are doing well because that's the way any sports section operates. It's a little hard to justify equal coverage for teams with 15-5 and 5-15 records.

It seems to make little difference how hard you try to create some balance in coverage, or how hard a writer tries to go "down the middle" in a story involving two area teams. People like to read things into a story that just aren't there, words that they insist "show definite favoritism" for a particular school.

Because there are so many petty jealousies between towns packed so closely together, the problems increase every time another school is added to the mushrooming Herald area.

I remember the first time I really became aware of this problem of area sensitivity. It was at the first basketball meeting in history between Prospect and Arlington high schools in 1960, a regional title confrontation in Palatine.

I went to the game as a spectator, not as a reporter. As a reporter, there are no problems with where you sit. There's usually a spot available at the scorer's table.

As a spectator, it's a whole new ball game. As a spectator, you fend for yourself and on this particular night, I knew there would be a tremendous crowd.

Even then there were cries of "favoritism" in our sports pages so my biggest problem as I entered the Palatine gym was where to sit. If a Herald sportswriter sat on the Prospect side, he would be accused of favoring the Knights. If he sat on the Arlington side, he would be accused of favoring the Cardinals.

It was with a great deal of apprehension that I entered the gym. The Palatine officials saved me. The crowd was so large that chairs had to be put on the floor at one end of the gym. I found a chair right in the middle on a direct line with the basket and proceeded to watch one of the most exciting games in history from a strictly neutral position.

It's not always that easy. There have been many times through the years when I went as a spectator and had to pick a side of the stands. I finally decided to look for the visitor's side regardless because there are more seats available.

That doesn't always help. There have been many times through the years when I would be sitting on the visitor's side and some fan would stop by and make some crack about "favoring" that team.

"It's not surprising to see you over here," they say. "Paddock is always partial to this school."

This mainly applies to basketball because you can get lost pretty easy in a football crowd at night — or you can always stand with an end zone view.

A part time assignment as a color man on radio each Friday night has helped solve my problem of where to sit, but there still are those times — like last week's Hersey at Wheeling game — when a decision must be made on a "neutral" vantage point.

If you think this all sounds silly, you don't understand the jealousies in this area. And finding a place to sit isn't the only problem sportswriters face.

Would you believe this staff also must be conscious of what color clothes we wear to games? Don't laugh.

Like an idiot, I had on a red blazer and white turtleneck at an area football game last fall. It was a balmy night and I took off my raincoat while walking to the press box.

"You can't come in here," one of the host school's officials joked (at least I think he was joking). "You've got on an Arlington outfit."

Then there was the time I made a short talk at a banquet honoring one of the area's outstanding football teams and was approached afterwards by a parent who inferred that I should have worn the school colors. Unfortunately, I didn't own anything at that time in the school colors.

This happens more than you could possibly imagine. We joke about it in the office because as we wait for our company blazers (please hurry!!!), we still have to be careful about what we wear to area games.

I wore an orange sportcoat and brown shirt to work last week on the day of the Wheeling-Hersey battle but obviously had to make a switch before going to the game. There was no way I would get caught in an orange and brown outfit (Hersey's colors) on that particular night. And I couldn't wear blue and gold because those are Wheeling's colors.

Green and white worked out fine, thank you.

The ultimate is when you wear green and gold to a game between Fremd and Elk Grove. Both schools have those colors. You don't have an enemy in the crowd.

I work the Arlington-Hersey game Friday night. Let's see now. Arlington is cardinal and white and Hersey is brown and orange.

There's this blue sportcoat I could wear . . . or I could always bring out the green and white again . . . or . . .

10 years ago...

Palatine boasted two sectional wrestling champs in Seth Norton at 145 pounds and Mike Gluck at 120 . . . Gluck ran his winning streak over two years to 57 straight . . . Dick Jensen of Maine East ruled the 95-pounders as he won his 41st straight match, and the Demons' Wes Caine topped the 112-pounders . . . Jim Cashmore of Prospect, a diver, finished sixth in the district swimming meet and was the only area qualifier for the state.

Champions, scoring race virtually decided in CSL

by MIKE KLEIN

Just about every major decision has already been reached during this current season of Central Suburban League basketball.

The individual scoring champion, barring injury, will be Glenbrook North's Ted Govedarica. At 269 points scored, he's opened a 47-point lead over Maine South's Pete Boesen with two games remaining.

And Boesen's Maine South Hawks have clinched their eighth CSL "championship" of sorts since the school opened 10 years ago. Bernie Brady teams have won or shared seven titles and never finished below second.

The Hawks are locked in as CSL South Division champs, with an 11-0 record, by virtue of last weekend's win over Niles North (7-4).

After Bloom lost last weekend, Maine South climbed into first place of the Chicago Daily News coaches poll. They're heavily favored at Niles East tonight and in the regular season finale next weekend against Deerfield.

So the only big question still unanswered is whether Maine South will share the title or win it outright. The culprit is Glenbrook North whose Spartans are 11-0 and leaders in the North division.

The Spartans are solid favorites in two season-ending road games — tonight at Maine East and next Friday evening at Glenbrook South. Indeed, they still need one win to erase New Trier West's chances at a North division co-title.

Should the Spartans unpredictably lose twice . . . and they shouldn't . . . New Trier, currently 9-2, could back into a share of the North title. The Cowboys will be at Highland Park tonight and host Maine North next weekend.

No other school threatens those two in the North division. Closest non-title contender is Highland Park with a 5-6 record.

The South division, however, still has second place up for grabs. Niles North can end the discussion with a home court win tonight over Deerfield (6-5).

But even if the Niles Vikings lose to Deerfield's Warriors, evening both clubs at 7-5, they're still the odds on favorites to finish second. The Vikings end their conference season at Niles West while Deerfield must play at Maine South.

Other games tonight, with all six match-ups set for 8:00 p.m. include Maine West at Niles West and Glenbrook South at Maine North.

Backtracking a bit, Glenbrook North's Govedarica ought to surpass 300 points in winning his scoring title. The 6-3 senior guard placed second last year, scoring 264 for a 20.3 average, a few notches below his current 24.4 pace.

Last year's scoring champion was Highland Park's Bob Santini with 273 points and a 22.8 mark. Only Maine South's Boesen also has an outside chance to pass that mark this season with his 222 points already scored.

Eight players scored 200 or more points last year in Central Suburban basketball. Four have already made it this year — Govedarica, 269; Boesen, 222; Maine North's George Kaufman, 212; and Niles North's Steve Goebel, 207.

Two others have a good chance to reach a couple hundred — Highland Park's Rich Schwalbach, 182; and Maine West's Doug Myers, 181. After that, it drops to Maine South's Pete Schmelzer, 166; and Glenbrook South's Murphy Hofman, 163.

It also appears that Goebel's 35 points last Dec. 14 against Maine West could hold up as the league's highest individual game. Goebel, GBN's Govedarica and Maine South's Boesen are the league's top candidates for All-Area or All-State consideration.

Maine East is the last club that has at least a minimal chance of upsetting GBN since Glenbrook South shouldn't come close. A question is whether the Spartans will be high or low after beating New Trier West, 73-69, last weekend.

"It's like somebody took 100 pounds off their shoulders," GBN coach Dan Perry said when asked about pressure surrounding the New Trier game. "We'll either have a tough time Friday night or blow 'em off. I suppose that's good, though, to get the pressure off for a while."

East coach Paul McClelland expects no letdown from Glenbrook which beat the Demons, 57-38, in a terrible game last month. "By now, they might be higher than ever," he said.

Any chance the Demons (4-7) have against Glenbrook is dependent upon: A) The return of Mark Berns; and B) How to play two centers in a single post offense.

Berns, a junior forward, had his nose broken against Maine South two weeks ago tomorrow. Surgery followed on Monday, Feb. 11, and Berns missed last week's win over Glenbrook South.

"Whether he plays depends upon if we can get him a hockey mask," McClelland said.

In their last outing against GBN, Maine didn't have senior guard Keith Larson, out with the flu, or any rebounding which has become a normal part of the Demon effort.

"If we've got Berns back, plus maybe Mike Cohen and Derrick Brown in the middle around (BGN's Scott) Sanderson, we could be alright," predicted McClelland.

Maine West retains an outside chance to finish third in the South division despite a current 4-7 record. The prerequisite is that Niles North and Maine South beat Deerfield, dropping the latter club to a final 6-7 record.

If the Warriors could hustle out wins over Niles West (3-8) tonight and Niles East (2-9) next weekend, they're into a third place tie.

Two factors have helped the Warriors of late. One is named Doug Myers and the other Bill Makuch. Myers has hit 24 and 21 points in West's past two conference games, a win over Niles North and loss to Deerfield. Makuch has hit at least 14 points in four of the past five games.

West coach Gaston Freeman said Makuch is "the quickest that we have in a one-and-one situation. On a press, he's very effective also."

About his club's overall 6-14 record, Freeman said, "The idea is to cut down the mistakes. That's the big thing. We had too many turnovers against Deerfield — 18. Against Niles North, we had only 11."

They've been mixed with some passing turnovers and traveling. "We're trying to do things too fast," Freeman said. "When we stay in a pattern, we're much more effective. We're not the type of ballclub that can score off a dribble.

"We'd like to see our guards penetrate for passing off, but when you get a boy inside a zone with the size of a Dan Myszka or Jim Goelz, you're in trouble." Both are 5-foot-9.

Maine West beat Niles West, 80-78, in their game on Jan. 18. That night, the Indians had outstanding production from guards Jim Zoros (21 points) and Marty Block (20).

Despite a 68-59 loss last time around, Maine North rates the favorite this evening over suddenly woe-be-gone Glenbrook South. Each team has 15 losses. Glenbrook owns five wins and Maine four.

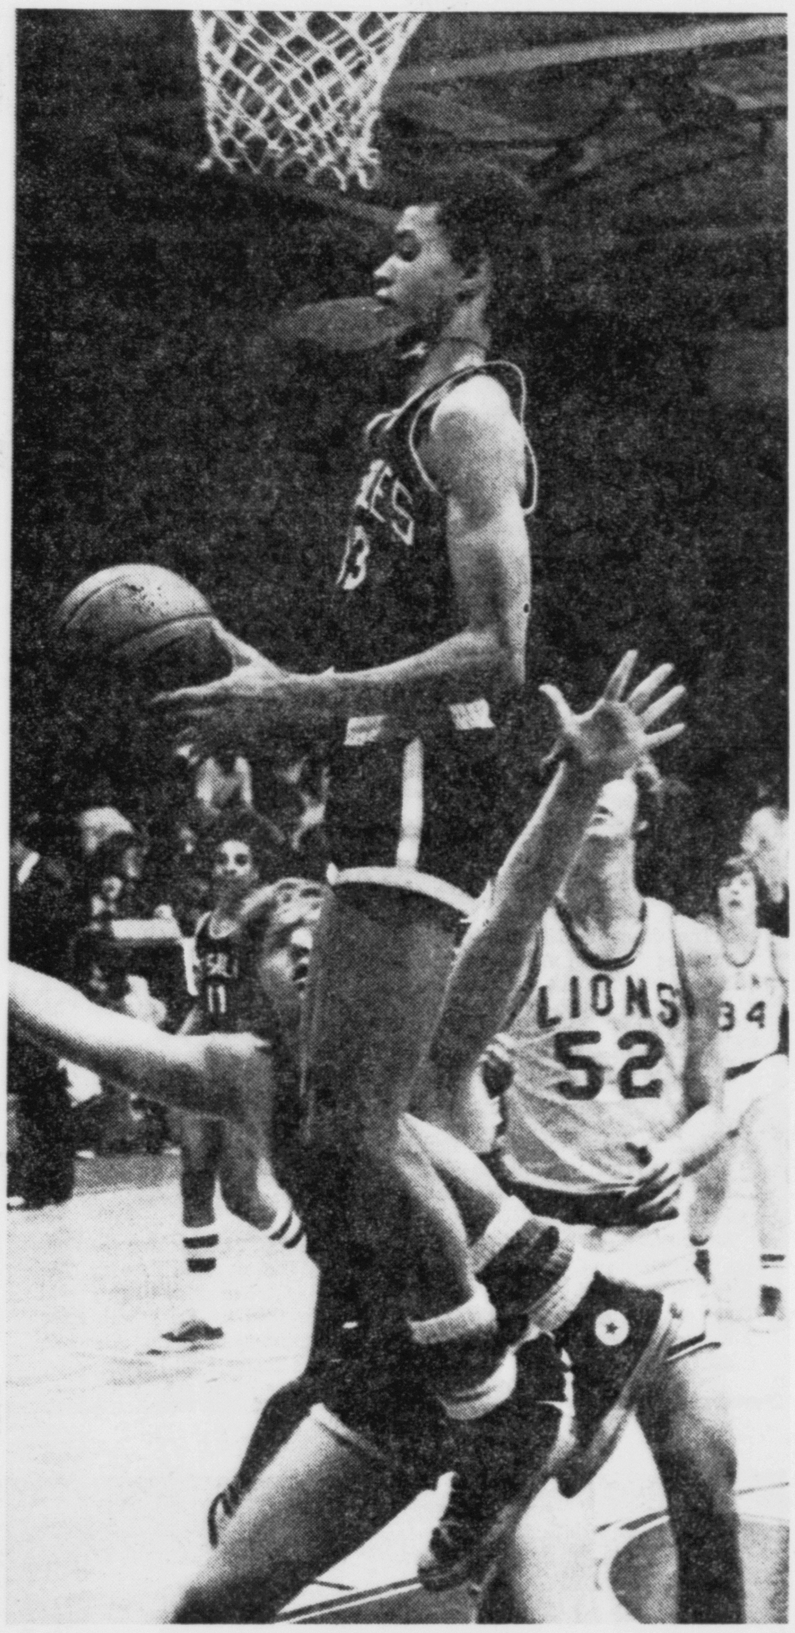
The Titans have lost six straight and only recently, senior starter Geroge Latto was kicked off the team by coach Steve Power. Their only proven player is senior Murphy Hofman who's scoring 14.8 points per game.

The Norsemen are no violent force themselves, having lost nine of their past 10. But Maine, 1-10 in the CSL North division, is customarily losing by less than 10 points despite a lineup that has only one senior — center Mike Wilson.

There are two juniors including guard George Kaufman, No. 3 Central Suburban scorer at 19.2. The other junior is forward Dennis Smith.

Beyond that, recent starters have included sohpomore forward-guard Ron Brooks and freshman guard Dexter Brown. The latter got his season high, 10 points, last weekend against Highland Park.

Our weekend picks: Had a 4-2 record last weekend for a 48-16 season mark. This week, make it New Trier West 15 over Highland Park, Glenbrook North 18 over Maine East, Maine South 23 over Niles East, Niles North three over Deerfield, Maine North seven over Glenbrook South and Maine West five over Niles West.



THIS IS EASY, figures Greg Saunders of St. Francis, as he gathers in a rebound in fourth quarter action at St. Viator Friday. Pioneer Glen Stevenson screens John Eichman away from the play, but the Lions won, 73-49, for their first victory of the season. (Photo by Jay Needleman)

Fan's forum

I am getting sick and tired of just reading about sports for boys in your sports section. Girls teams do exist, you know.

Oh sure, you have little stories in from time to time, telling us the scores. But if you didn't make your boy stories so darn long, you might have more room for these young women. They work just as hard as the boys in practice and in games.

Name withheld by request
Palatine

Speaking of being frustrated, we are just as much as you are. When an interscholastic sports program was set up for the girls (and long, long, long overdue in our opinion), we attended a meeting of women coaches to discuss our coverage. What you have seen in The Herald over the last couple of years was this women's committee's wish, not ours. It was their feeling that we should only publish the scores, a brief story on the championship playoff game and pictures of the division winners of the Mid-Suburban Conference. We have tried to live with this policy, but we would have loved to have given them more. Instead, we were asked not to because it was feared that giving these young women more would put too much pressure on them.

We have forwarded these frustrations to those women who are in charge, telling them that the girl athletes want and deserve more publicity for their accomplishments. Presently, the league officials are considering changes in their philosophy. With such fine teams as Fremd (undefeated the past two years) in basketball and Forest View (state champs in bowling and division winners in basketball) around as well as many others in different sports, we feel it's long overdue to tell our readers more about them. Thank you for your letter.

Bloom, Maine lead poll

The latest UPI basketball poll shows Bloom of Chicago Heights still the No. 1 team in the state of Illinois, followed closely by Maine South of Park Ridge. The class AA ratings, based on the vote of high school coaches, maintained Bloom in the top spot despite its second loss of the season last weekend. The top ten with team records in parentheses: Bloom (21-2), Maine South (19-1), Aurora East (20-2), Freeport (22-1) Peoria Richwoods (22-1), East Moline (17-3), Collinsville (19-3), East Leyden (18-3), Proviso East (19-4), St. Patrick (22-2).

World series of snow

A guaranteed purse of $29,000 will be at stake this weekend, Feb. 22-24, when the United States Snowmobile Association holds its fifth annual World Series of Snowmobiling at Eagle River, Wis., scene of last month's World Championship Snowmobile Derby. The nation's leading high point snowmobile racing drivers will be on hand to compete in the World Series.

Hockey playoffs set

Post-season playoffs will begin this Sunday in Chicago Metropolitan Hockey League action. A top contest will feature Mark Langer and Palatine against John Walsh and Arlington at 9 p.m. at the Woodfield Hockey Center. Langer and Walsh are the AA scoring leaders with 24 points apiece.

The remainder of the Sunday Woodfield schedule shows Notre Dame vs. Maine South (4:30 p.m.), St. Viator vs. Rolling Meadows (6 p.m.), and Fremd vs. Hersey (7:30 p.m.).

Lundstedt signs contract

Tom Lundstedt, former prep star at Prospect, has signed his Chicago Cub contract. Lundstedt, 24, hit .295 last season in the minors before being called up and used sparingly during September.

From campuses nationwide

—Steve Sparkes, of Arlington Heights, was honored by Bucknell University as one of the 59 athlete-scholars who combined academic excellence with proficiency on the playing field. Sparkes, the captain of the soccer team at the Pennsylvania school, had to maintain at least a 3.2 grade point average on a scale of 4.

—Another Arlington Heights resident, Greg Dryanski, earned individual wrestling honors for Ripon College at the eighth annual Lawrence Invitational Meet at Appleton. Dryanski won his only two bouts to capture the title at 150 pounds. After drawing a bye in the first round, he pinned his opponent in the semi-finals and posted a 3-1 victory in the championship match.

—The Illinois State University women's badminton team will travel to Muncie, Indiana March 21-23 for the intercollegiate women's championships, and three of the six team members will be from the Herald area. The three are Bonnie Serone and Robin Schuster of Des Plaines and Carol Floros of Mount Prospect.

Girl scores 5 points in boys game 'just for fun'

by ART MUGALIAN

So Rachel Lavin wants to be on the boys basketball team at Mather High School. The Chicago girl has taken her case to the courthouse to force her school to let her play.

Rachel may still be legally entwined next year when Sandy Rainey is pulling down rebounds and piling up the points for the girls team at Wheeling High.

"I think she's nuts," Sandy said good-naturedly, when asked about Ms. Lavin's liberationist plans.

Sandy should know.

The 14-year-old Wheeling girl recently played in an eighth grade boys basketball game for Jack London Junior High. Sandy is five-feet-eight inches and 115 pounds of sugar and spice. In six minutes on the court against Holmes Junior High, she scored five points.

"I was a little nervous," she said bashfully. "It was kind of strange — I mean, the boys play differently than we do. And when I'd look around, instead of girls, I'd see boys.

"This was just for fun," Sandy continued. "I wouldn't want to play on the boys team all the time."

Sandy has been a member of London Junior High's girls basketball squad which has gone undefeated in 26 games over a two-year span. School officials let her play one game with the boys after the completion of the girls' season.

"We were trying to get some publicity for our girls basketball program," said Sandy's principal, Gerald Kiffel. "Some people got all upset about it — they don't like the girls competing with the boys. We weren't trying to start a feminist movement or anything. We just wanted to create a little interest in girls' basketball. It was only a one-shot thing."

The London Junior High boys evidently didn't mind the female intrusion into their world. "Our boys liked it," Kiffel noted, "but the other team wasn't too crazy about it."

But Holmes Junior High lost the game, too.

Kiffel and Sandy agree that girls' athletics has a place of its own. "Generally speaking, I wouldn't want to see girls playing on boys teams," said Kiffel, "but I'd argue that some of the girls could compete with the guys in some sports."

Sandy focused on the different levels of competition. "Normally, guys are a lot stronger," she said. "But if girls get a chance to play, they can do well in some sports."

Kiffel feels that the integration of girls' and boys' sports will lead to the demise of girls athletics. He argues that eventually the boys will drive even the most proficient girls from competition.

The London Junior High principal seemed pleased with the episode, despite some negative feedback, and he praised the 14-year-old student who brought the whole thing off.

"Actually, she's a very good player," Kiffel said. "She's the only girl good enough to play with the boys. I'm sure she's looking forward to playing basketball in high school. But not with the boys."

Sandy Rainey, currently active in the volleyball program at London Junior High, says that athletics means a lot to her. The eighth grader has played basketball with the boys — that's about as liberated as a 14-year-old can get.

And she still has four years of high school "eligibility" ahead of her.

What's the difference between "rustproofing" and Ziebart rustproofing?

All the difference in the world. To begin with, our tools are so different they're patented. Our sealant is unique. It's attracted to metal, and actively creeps into welded seams.

And our process is so thorough we can guarantee your new car against rust-through for 5 years or 50,000 miles. Or your money back.

There are other important differences, too. And you should check them all out. Call us.

THE BEST IN / Sports

Arlington Minor Hockey report

MITE - TRAVELING TEAM
Arlington 3, Streamwood 2

For this, the first win of the season for the Mite's traveling team, all of the boys played extremely well. Joe Golemba, in goal, made some fine saves, the two goals scored coming on breakaways.

Brian Pond scored Arlington's first goal with an assist from Todd Johnson and Scott Brunner. Jim Wrobel then scored his first goal, unassisted, beating out a Streamwood player on the boards and firing a hard shot that left the Streamwood goalie with no chance. Don Laube then set up Wrobel for the winning goal.

The Streamwood goalie kept the score from going higher with 20 fine saves on the rampaging Arlington forwards.

Wilmette 7, Arlington Heights 0

Steve Schrager and Kevin McGuire, who shared goaltending, worked hard to keep the score down against a fine Wilmette squad, making a total of 21 saves.

St. Jude 4, Arlington 2

Arlington went ahead on a first period goal by Larry Cahan, unassisted. St. Jude next scored a pair of goals, but Ricky Garber, on a fine unassisted effort, tied the game. From then on St. Jude took over. Steve Schrager in goal made 20 saves for Arlington.

Arlington Heights 4, Niles 1

PEE WEE DIVISION - HOUSE LEAGUE
Binzel 3, City Welding 1

Tim Gillogly and Glen Holfeld each scored one goal and assisted on one other for Binzel. O. B. Berke tallied the third goal. Bob Nelson and Bill Mitchell earned assists. Jim Mundorf scored the consolation goal for City Welding on a breakaway.

Incentive Services 1, Binzel 1

Binzel goalie Jim Murphy was a key to the tie, stopping 35 shots. Don Chatten scored Binzel's goal on a setup by Bill King and Tim Gillogly. Mark Brawley scored for Incentive Services unassisted.

City Welding 2, Firefighters 1

Incentive Services 4, Firefighters 2

Incentive Services scored first and held the lead all through the game. Mark Meyer scored two goals and assisted on another. Mark Brawley scored once and assisted once while Bob More notched the other tally. Tom Estey, Chuck Klingler and Brian Weed earned assists.

Incentive Services 3, City Welding 1

Bob Klingender, in the nets for City Welding, kept the score down with 23 saves. For Incentive Services, Tom Estey got a goal and an assist, with Chuck Klingler and Tom More scoring the other goals. Steve Hall, Mark Brawley, Eric Wold and Mark Bresler were credited with single assists.

Ray Jenks scored for City Welding, assisted by Vincent Falcone.

BANTAM DIVISION - HOUSE LEAGUES
Oilers 6, Rich Port Rangers 2

The game was closer than the score suggests but the Rangers missed too many opportunities, while the Oilers capitalized on all of theirs. Weber had a field day for the Oilers, scoring four goals, and playing well defensively. Other Oiler goals were scored by Wuerl, and Gorski. Neuhaus earned a pair of assists and Gorski and Korpanski one each.

Ranger's goals were scored by Moore and Dreiling, with Williams earning an assist.

Johnson Sporting Goods Jets 1
Arlington Aeros 0

In a tight, close game, Dahlstrom in the nets for the Jets was the key, earning his shutout with 23 saves. The Aeros played without a goalie, keeping six attackers on the ice for the game. The result is a tribute to fine defensive play by Brierton and Lightner and the whole team.

The Jets' lone tally, enough for the victory, came from Lattof on a breakaway.

Oilers 3, Rich Port Rangers 1

The Oilers again went on the rampage and only fine goal tending by Hanner kept the score down, as he made 24 saves.

Weber scored first for the Oilers, being set up by Neuhaus, who earned an assist. Gorski scored next, converting a pass from Wurle. Rangers then scored their goal, Bob Moore taking a fine pass from Birkholz and leaving goalie Robin no chance. The final Oiler goal was scored in an empty net by Neuhaus.

Aeros 3, Oilers 2

Another tight game saw Brierton score all three of his team's goals. Nolte earned the lone assist. Weber scored both of the Oilers' goals, one assisted by Riefke.

Goalies Robin (Oilers) and Bakalar (Aeros) both played fine games, robbing their opponents of many goals.

Jets 2, Rich Port Rangers 2

Goalie Hanner, for the Rangers, again played a big part in his team's tie, making 25 saves and cooling the aggressive Jets' offense.

The Jets scored both their goals early in the first period, both from the stick of Liebgott, with one assist from Schmidt.

The Rangers got one goal back near the end of the period, when Moore took a pass from Holfeld and beat Dahlstomm cleanly.

Dahlstrom kept the Rangers at bay until the third period, when Holfeld picked up a loose puck and skated in behind the defense to give the goalie no chance.

Oilers 4, Aeros 4

The lead switched back and forth with outstanding performances by both goalies. Robin (Oilers) and Bakalar (Jets) both made remarkable saves and were left with no chance on the shots that got by them.

The Oilers scored first when Weber, Riefke and Neuhaus teamed up, with Weber notching the goal. The Aeros got the goal back with a fine individual effort by Graseman. Weber again put the Oilers ahead, when he beat the defense with an unassisted effort. Grassman scored for the Aeros, this time with an assist from Brierton. Weber put the Oilers ahead with assists from Neuhaus and Gorski. Brierton then scored for the Aeros, Graseman assisting. The final goal for the Aeros, scored late in the game, came when Nolte deflected a fine shot by Graseman past goalie Robin.

BANTAM TRAVELING TEAM
Evanston 5, Arlington Heights 3

Leading 3-1 going into the third period, Arlington couldn't withstand the furious Evanston attack.

Rusty Gould scored first, unassisted. John Otzen tallied the next goal, assisted by Mark Butler and Bryan Schumann. Arlington's last goal was tallied by Dave O'Neill, with assists from Bob Rosenquist and Brad Schumann.

Arlington Heights 1, Highland Park 1

Arlington played well against a good Highland Park team but had to be satisfied with a tie. Larry Hermanson getting the goal with an assist from Jim McGuire.

Evanston 1, Arlington Heights 0

Although Arlington put out a great effort, Evanston got the only goal of the game to take the victory.

Elmhurst 5, Arlington Heights 2

Playing against one of the best teams in the area, Arlington made them work hard for every goal, but couldn't penetrate a tough defense. Jim McGuire scored both goals, one assisted by Stew Swain, the other unassisted.

Lake Forest 2, Arlington 0

The game was close except for a few minutes in the second period, when Lake Forest scored both their goals. Their tough defense then took care of Arlington's offense.

MIDGET DIVISION — TRAVELING TEAM
Arlington 1, Palatine 1

Mike Retzer scored Arlington's lone goal early in the first period. Though Arlington outshot Palatine 30 to 14 most shots were right on the goalie, rather than on the open net.

Lake Forest 4, Arlington 0

Arlington suffered its 2nd NIHL shutout of the season. While both teams tallied the same number of shots on goal, Lake Forest found that all-important gap.

Arlington 8, Elk Grove 1

Jeff Gardner, Tom McDonald and Rich Miner scored for Arlington in the first period. Scott McFeeley, Mike Rodell, Bob Bettis, Gerry Dudziack, Mike Retzer and Brien Locker earned assists. Retzer and Miner scored in the second period with assists from Locker, Retzer and Ben Mattox. Scott McFeeley netted two goals in the third period, both assisted by Gardner and one by Jim Hoss as well. Retzer scored the final goal, unassisted.

St. Jude 5, Arlington 4

St. Jude opened the scoring in the first period, but Arlington tied the game in the second, only to see St. Jude go ahead again. The third period was fast and furious, St. Jude netting three goals in three minutes. Arlington got two of the goals back but the buzzer sounded before the tying goal came. Jeff Gardner scored two goals, John Walsh and Dick Duel one each. Gardner, Walsh, Jim Hoss, Mike Retzer and Brien Locker tallied assists. Dino Perotti, in goal, played a fine game, making a total of 28 saves.

HOUSE LEAGUE
Hallmark Hawks 5, Prospect Knights 1

Hallmark had this game in hand all the way as Mike Pietsch scored three goals for a hat trick. Scott McFeeley scored one goal and assisted Pietsch on his hat trick. Tom Olscese scored one goal with assists from Ian Cimly and George Lear. Bill Fritz notched Prospect's lone goal assisted by Rick Smith and Jim Arcuso.

Bangert Bruins 6, Rob Roy Raiders 5

This exciting game seesawed back and forth, with the edge going to the Bruins. Paul Kula scored three goals for Bangert, Jack Powell two and Marty Sczypaniak one. Kula also earned three assists and Sczypaniak one. For the Raiders, Rich Herdrich and Rich Miner each netted two goals. Mike Rodell scored one goal and assisted two others. Miner earned two assists and Herdrich one.

SQUIRT TRAVELING TEAM
Arlington 2, Winnetka 2

This game was a battle from start to finish. Winnetka jumped ahead to a two goal lead early in the first period. Dean Voss, Arlington's goalie, then shut the door, turning in a super performance for the rest of the game, turning away 20 shots. Arlington's first goal came just 30 seconds into the second period when Mike Aiello lifted the puck over the prone Winnetka goalie into the net. Kevin Pond and Wayne Schlichting helped set up the goal. Mike Aiello also scored the second goal, this time assisted by Frank Del Ghingaro and Wayne Schlichting.

Grade school cage highlights

The unbeaten Saints (St. Raymond's) won their fifth straight game and the first round of the Mount Prospect 6th Grade Basketball League last week at Holmes Junior High by defeating the Wildcats (Dempster) 38-28 in an exciting battle.

The winners balanced scoring was led by Frank Apuzzo (10), Scott Lapcewich (8), Vic Citro (8), and Jim Neugebauer (7). Ed Conlon spearheaded the tough defense. A big factor in the Saints victory was the 67 per cent shooting from the free throw line.

The Wildcats (3-2) made a game out of it and led after three quarters. However, they couldn't muster a sustained scoring attack in the last period. Jeff Miller and Doug Meyer collected eight points apiece. Jim Holan hit for six. Mike Martinski got a pair of buckets and Steve Anderskow angled in one.

The hustling Hawks (Holmes) edged the Eagles (St. Emily's) 36-34 in a wild contest. After being deadlocked at 11-11 at intermission, both teams came out shooting in the second half. Doug Campbell and Dan O'Connor pumped in 12 and 9 points respectively for the victors. Kevin Maloney added five. Jeff Asbury and Scott Wertz bagged four points apiece while Phil Simon got two counters.

The Eagles suffered their second league loss in spite of a fine 22 point shooting performance by John Frugo, the league's top scorer with a total of 70. Jeff Zender aided the losers cause with five counters. Jimmy Lazarski (3), Jack Enright (2), and Jeff Koziol (2) concluded the scoring.

The spirited Warriors (St. Zachary's - Friendship) won their first league game by shading the Lions (St. Mark) 40-39 in the entertaining nightcap. Tom Scoleri tallied the first 15 points for the winners and finished the evening with 21. Greg Woodall chipped in nine. George Juarez and Scott Luschen each dropped in four points in the important 4th quarter rally. Chris DeLew sank a pair of free throws.

The Lions lost a tight game but displayed a strong offensive attack. Mark Heuer drilled through a season high total of 24 points on 11 baskets plus two free throws. Tim Anderson followed with nine counters. Scott Dix and Mark Fassnacht collected six between them.

Hoffman's sophs triumph, 62-49

The Hoffman Hawks evened their league record at 5-5 by downing Fremd's sophomore squad, 62-49, in the penultimate game of the year.

The recent cage action at Hoffman featured a fine performance by the Hawks' Jim Moore, who tossed in 14 points and grabbed 10 rebounds. Tim Cannon also netted 14 for Jerry Segebrecht's Hawk team.

Hoffman opened up a 25-10 first quarter lead and never trailed, as they improved their overall mark of 9-10.

The final game of the season will be played tomorrow at Wheeling.

Palatine hockey results

MITE DIVISION — TRAVELING TEAM
BANK OF ROLLING MEADOWS 4, EVANSTON 3

Starting out slow, Palatine came alive with four goals in the second period. Everyone wanted a shot at the goalie, it seemed, with shots on goal adding up to 25. High scorer for Palatine was Matt McElman with two. Other goals were Todd Bleecker and Bill Colacicco. Assists went to Jody Horn, Mike Updike and Bleecker.

BANK OF ROLLING MEADOWS 2, WILMETTE 2

After being hit by the flu bug for three weeks, Palatine was finally able to put a full team together. Scoring first for Palatine was Rich Dote, assisted by Jody Horn. Having a hard time adjusting to ice conditions — the game being played outdoors — the fast-skating mites were able to put only one more goal across by Matt McElman in the first period. From then on it was all slush.

HUSKIES OF ELMHURST 3, BANK OF ROLLING MEADOWS 1

Jumping off to a one to nothing lead with a goal by Matt McElman, assisted by Jody Horn, Palatine was able to keep ahead of the league-leading Huskies until late in the second period when Elmhurst came back with two goals. Palatine had a superb day — outshooting, outskating, but not outscoring Elmhurst.

SQUIRT DIVISION — TRAVELING TEAM
ELMHURST 11, PALATINE ROTARY 2

The Palatine Rotary squirts were overpowered by the strong Huskie team. Palatine scoring was by Brad Johnson and Clark Lush, and assists went to Erik Jeffries and Paul McSweeney.

PALATINE ROTARY 2, ST. JUDE 2

In a rough hockey game marked by thirteen penalties, the Palatine team got off to a 1-0 lead on a goal by Craig Jenkins, assisted by Jeff Abrahamson. Shortly thereafter on assists by Abrhamson and Paul Carney, Brad Johnson scored to make it 2-0. St. Jude fought hard, and late in the 3rd period they scored two quick goals to tie the game.

DES PLAINES 4, PALATINE ROTARY 1

Palatine Rotary could not put it all together and were upset by Des Plaines 4-1. Palatine scoring was by Erik Jeffires, assisted by Paul McSweeney.

PALATINE ROTARY 3, OAK PARK 2

The Palatine Rotary picked up two more points with a 3-2 victory over Oak Park in a NIHL game. Palatine scoring was by Craig Jenkins, Paul McSweeney and Paul Carney. Assists went to Mike Gellinger and Mike Bauers, while both John Chope and Dennis Myers shared goal.

DEERFIELD 4, PALATINE ROTARY 0

On Deerfield ice for the previous encounter, the Palatine Rotary Squirts played to a 1-1 tie. However, on the return match, home ice advantage was not enough as Deerfield came to play hockey and skated to a 4-0 victory.

PEE WEE DIVISION — TRAVELING TEAM
DEERFIELD 3, PALATINE JAY CEES 2

The JayCees took on Deerfield at Trinity College and wound up on the short end of a 3-2 score. It was a tightly played game by both teams, but the Palatine scoring could not open up. Dave Anderson scored the first Palatine goal on an assist from Barry Peterson. Late in the second period Anderson scored again on assists from Tony Loessl and Mike Muratori.

PALATINE JAYCEES 5, DES PLAINES 2

Palatine continued its winning ways at Woodfield as they beat Des Plaines 5-2. Mike Muratori, Jay Bleecker and Dave Anderson had three points, with one goal and two assists apiece. The scoring opened on a goal by Tony Loessl, with assists from Anderson and Bleecker. Then Bleecker scored his goal with an assist going to Muratori. Barry Peterson scored a goal in a scramble in front of the net on assists from Anderson and Bleecker. Anderson then scored the fourth JayCee goal on a pass from Muratori. The final goal was scored unassisted as Muratori took the puck in his own end and worked his way to the Des Plaines goal to put the puck behind the goalie.

WINNETKA 5, PALATINE JAY CEES 0

Winnetka handed Palatine its first shutout loss of the season as they scored three third-period goals to insure the victory.

MIDGET DIVISION — TRAVELING TEAM
WINNETKA 8, PALATINE-CARPENTER'S COMPUTER SERVICE 0

After a trying game the night before, the Palatine midgets could not muster enough energy to score one goal.

CARPENTER'S COMPUTER SERVICES 1, ARLINGTON 1

Paul Scott was in the nets for Palatine with 29 saves. Tim Pohl scored the tying goal, assisted by Mike Aquino and Mark Dittrich at 6:33 in the third period. Palatine held on to finish in a tie.

CARPENTER'S COMPUTER SERVICES 8, DES PLAINES 3

Palatine scoring was by Langer (two), Pohl (two), Piazz, Beatty, Davis, and Larsen. Assists were by Campion, Dittrich (two), Aldana, Beatty, Wilson and Menick (two).

MITE DIVISION — HOUSE LEAGUE
JACK'S TEXACO 3, WOODFIELD FORD 0
PALATINE STANDARD 3, PALATINE SAVINGS & LOAN 2

Palatine Standard was losing 2-0 until the last four minutes of the game. Tony Ackles scored the winning goal with two seconds to go. Scott Simon had one goal and an assist. Ackles had another goal and an assist. John Hunt also had an assist. Savings & Loan goals were by Mike Thomas (two). Assists were by K. Smith and Paul Jackson.

BOB'S FREEWAY 4, LOUIS WERD BUILDERS 1

Goals for Bob's Freeway were by Rick Soja (three) and Steve Tuckner. Tuckner had two assists. Scoring for Louis Werd was by Kent Carlson on an unassisted goal.

PALATINE HEATING & COOLING 2, GRAEBEL MOVERS 0

Space problems; more hockey news in Monday sports

Because of space problems in Friday's sports, several stories have to be held until next week.

Results of youth hockey, swimming and basketball were used in the order they arrived at the Herald office.

All the results submitted this week will be used in either the Monday or Tuesday sports sections.

Publicity directors should continue to submit their results prior to noon Wednesdays, but in the case of any space problems at the end of each week, those results that arrive earlier will be used first.

At Beverly Lanes

There is a three-way tie for first place in the Parkway League after bowling this week at Beverly Lanes. Schroder won, 5-2, over Herr, league leader last week. Bob Quade rolled 567 for Schroder and Wally Juretschke had 572-212 for Herr. Turcotte won, 5-2, over Wagner to gain the third berth in the tie.

Northwest 'Y' swim highlights

Northwest Suburban's "A" Swim team made it eight out of ten for the season last Saturday when they met with the Elgin YMCA at the Blake pool in Des Plaines. The girls scored 212 to 137 and the boys won with a 204 over 130. There is just one more meet for the "A" team this season before the Cluster Championships in March. That will be with Mt. Clare Leyden next Saturday at 3:00 p.m. at Northwest Suburban YMCA.

Early February Results

On Saturday, February 9th, the Northwest Suburban "A" Swim team coached by Ed Richardson met with the team from West Communities and came away victorious with the most lop-sided scores of the year. The girls recorded 242 points to 38 and the boys added 255 points to 71. Part of the reason for such a point spread was the fact that West Communities had trouble filling their relay teams — which score seven points apiece. However, the Northwest swimmers are swimming stronger each week in their efforts to make times for the District Meet on March 9th and 10th. Coach Richardson is assisted with the boys team by Don Altergott and with the girls team by Yvonne Pritchett.

At Elk Grove Bowl

In the VFW 9284 League at Elk Grove Bowl, J. Spachner of George's Hardware won the ABC Century Award with a 256 . . . J. Hadsell of Swenson Painting had 184-213-202—599 and T. Coll of Bank of Elk Grove had 195-209-190—594.

Wings soar over Wildcats

The Zion Wings made amends for an earlier 11-1 defeat by outskating the Woodfield Wildcats in a 6-3 upset.

Wildcat coach John Newkirk felt that the Wildcats took the game lightly due to the earlier easy victory.

The Wildcats seemed to get off on the right foot as Mike Hall took passes from Olynyk and Krizak and broke in on the right side. From about 20 feet he let go a low wrist which cleanly beat the Wing goalie. The game was only 35 seconds old. Less than five minutes later Hall again scored, this time unassisted while killing a penalty. This seemed to relax the Wildcats who could not get enough steam up through the rest of the game.

The second period began with both teams owning two goals. The Wildcats scored a third time as once again Hall was the scorer. This time he put in a low backhander from 15 feet in front of the net on passes from Krizak and Zimmerman. This completed the hat trick for Hall and also finished the scoring for the Wildcats. This marked the first time in five weeks that Hall was able to skate full time in a game due to a knee injury.

The second period ended 3-3. The third stanza was all Wings as they went on to score three goals. These same two teams play again this Friday in Zion and Newkirk promises a much different outcome.

At Hoffman Lanes

In the Tuesday Nite Mixed at Hoffman Lanes, Lloyd Everhart had eight strikes in a row in a 266 game . . . He also had games of 166 and 167 for a 599 series . . . Joe Anzalone rolled 214-215-186 for a 615 for Phistry-Anzalone.

'74 Plymouth Duster

PAA

As you can see, Duster's sticker price is below popular Japanese imports. And what you do spend, buys you a lot more. For example, Duster seats five adults, comfortably. The Toyota, Mazda and Datsun—only four. Duster's got a standard electronic ignition that virtually eliminates ignition tune-ups. The other three don't even offer one. And finally, Duster is every inch a compact. With easy handling and parking. And good gas mileage on regular fuel.

Want a car that offers a lot for the money? Then see a member of your Economy Team about a new Duster. You know who I mean?

Volkswagen's Dasher stresses fuel economy

Volkswagen's all new car, the Dasher, combines VW economy and nimbleness with handsome styling in a package unlike any VW seen in this country before.

The Dasher is designed to give about 25 miles per gallon of gasoline, but that's only part of the economy story. Other features, such as extended maintenance service intervals and VW's Owner's Security Blanket with Computer Analysis, give it superior overall economy of operation.

The Dasher is the first VW to be sold in North America with a water-cooled engine and front wheel drive. Compared with the Beetle, the Dasher is more powerful, has a longer wheelbase and longer overall length.

Routine maintenance (after an initial 1,000 mile maintenance service) is called for only once every 10,000 miles or once every 12 months. Oil changes are called for every 5,000 miles. The car carries a 12-month, 20,000-mile warranty that includes everything but lubricants and filters. Even ignition points, spark plugs, wiper blades and upholstery are covered.

The Dasher's four cylinder, overhead camshaft engine is mounted at the front ahead of the transmission and the independently suspended front wheels.

SEDAN VERSIONS of the new VW Dasher are a four-door (left) and a two-door. The front wheel drive cars — first of such vehicles offered by VW in North America — are available from some 1,200 VW dealers who also sell and service the full VW line, including a four-door station wagon Dasher. Available with an optional automatic transmission, the Dashers, like other VWs, are equipped for Computer Analysis, VW's unique service checkup system.

Woodfield holds mens' tourney starting tonight

A former Illinois state champion plus last year's Chicago District Tennis Association 35 doubles winners will compete the next two weekends in men's singles and doubles indoor championships at the Woodfield Racquet Club.

Singles will begin at 7:30 p.m. tonight at the Woodfield Club, 1415 N. Payne in Schaumburg. Among the 52 contestants will be former Illinois champion Nick Barone.

Bob Breckenridge and Rick Whittington, last year's CDTA 35 doubles winners, will team together when doubles play begins at 4:30 p.m. Saturday.

Matches will also be held on Sunday but no starting times have yet been determined. Quarter-finals, semis and final rounds will be played off next Saturday and Sunday.

This event has been sanctioned by the United States Lawn Tennis Association. There will be no admission charged to watch the 52 singles entrants and 16 doubles teams.

—Mid-Suburban showdowns tonight

the doctor ordered for the Grens, since more opponents stack the defense against Pollitz.

Tonight, Elk Grove will be gunning for its 15th win of the season, which would tie the school record set last year. In addition, the Grenadiers will be trying to upset the first place Cougars.

"It's always nice to beat the top team," Parmentier said, "but we just want to play a good ball game. Our main concern right now is to play as well as we can at this time of the year."

SCHAUMBURG AT FOREST VIEW

Some teams can't win for losing. The Forest View Falcons can win tonight and still lose in the South division battle with Conant.

"We have to win — that's what we have to do," coach Ted Wissen said, knowing full well that a Falcon victory must be coupled with a Conant loss to mean anything in the division standing.

"Our goal is three-fold now, actually," Wissen noted. "We've tied the school record as far as wins go, and now we want to break it. As long as we're still alive in the South, that's a goal. And we want to do as well as we can in the regionals."

Forest View will be hosting a rip-snorting regional, too, featuring North division contenders Arlington and Wheeling. But that tournament won't begin until March 5.

Wissen's Falcons must contend with the Schaumburg Saxons first, a team they beat by 20 points the previous time around. "They gave us a pretty good ball game for the first half," the Forest View coach said. "We certainly won't be looking past them. The kids know that this is an important game — we're going to do our best."

The Falcons will start their regular lineup of Larry Monroe, Craig Brinkman, Mike Meyer, Mark Russo, and Kurt Haaland.

"We'll just go out and do what we always do," Wissen added, "and hope for the best."

Coach Joe Breault of Schaumburg doesn't have a great reputation as a psychic, but he tried his hand at prognostication early in the week.

"I just have a feeling we're going to have a good game," the Saxon boss said. "And I don't get these feelings often."

Breault's team can play the spoiler by spilling the Falcons, and Breault himself stresses the role. "This game is important for us. Forest View can be super some nights and inconsistent on others. We're hoping they have an off-night.

"Some teams haven't been ready for us," the coach continued, "but Forest View should be up for this one. Man for man, they're a little faster than we are, and they really know what to do with the basketball. But, I think we have a chance."

Sickness has taken its toll of Breault's team and the coach may have to improvise a lineup at game time. But Bruce Trivellini, last week's high scorer with 11 points, should see some more action tonight. Also instrumental in the Saxon upset plans will be high scorers Ray Kralicek and Jon McIlraith.

PALATINE AT ROLLING MEADOWS

Rolling Meadows will wear a new look against Palatine. The Mustangs will employ the services of recently promoted sophomore Bill Kiley, a 6-foot-8 center who poured in 16 points in Meadows' 79-41 triumph over Stevenson Tuesday.

"He's certainly a new dimension for us and we're anxious to see what he can do against a quicker Palatine team," Mustang head coach Ken Arneson said.

Arneson is still debating on a starting lineup with consideration going to fully-recovered flu victim John Hogan, Steve Breitbeil, Pat Geegan, Kiley, Tom Holl, Scott Green and Dave Thorstensen.

The Pirates need just one more victory to even their season record at 9-9, a goal no Palatine team has attained in recent years. And Ron Finfrock's 1974 edition seems to be on the upsurge.

The Pirates look a lot different than they did 17 games ago. Mark Mara is in the starting lineup, averaging nearly 15 points a game. Joe Lillibridge has moved into the backcourt, providing a valuable playmaking service and occasionally tossing in more than his share of points, as he did last week against Fremd when he contributed 17.

Finfrock's team peaked last year at this time and 1974 may be no different.

BUFFALO GROVE AT PROSPECT

Prospect will be looking to clinch sole possession of third place in the South Division gainst upstart Buffalo Grove.

The Knights waltzed through the first meeting between the two clubs, 82-30, as four players hit for double figures.

This time around, Prospect should still boast a commending height advantage. The Knights' rebounding margin against the Bison helped key their highest output of the season.

Although saddled in third place in the South standings, Prospect remains the second-highest scoring team in the division, a mere four points behind Conant's pace setting 756.

The Bison are still looking for that formula that carried them to their only conference win of the season, against Schaumburg, 50-44. Since then they've been pummeled twice by wide margins and their big scoring gun, Brian Allsmiller, has been held pretty much in check.

"Brian just hasn't been given many good shots to take," mulled Bison coach Paul Grady over the 11 and 10 point performances by his ace the last couple of weeks. "And if we don't get it from him our whole team scoring punch suffers."

Last time out Allsmiller collected 13 against the Knights.

Marmion visits St. Viator

by ART MUGALIAN

Things are a lot more pleasant at 1213 East Oakton in Arlington Heights this week.

People are smiling in the halls at St. Viator because the Lions won their first basketball game last Friday. After 19 losses in a row this season, Steve Antrim's young squad finally entered some black ink in the ledger. And they did it in convincing fashion, routing a decent St. Francis de Sales team.

The school has something else to gloat over. Terry Keehan, the Lions' top-notch senior finished the league schedule as the leading scorer in the Suburban Catholic Conference. The 6-foot-2 redhead tallied 297 points in 14 games for a 21.2 average, ahead of all other players in the two divisions of the 16-team league.

Tonight, St. Viator hosts Marmion Military Academy in the crossover-division wrapup between the league's two last place teams. The Cadets will bring a 3-11 West record into the contest.

"We scouted them Friday night," said Antrim, "and they're not too big. But they're pretty quick. And they've got a big kid in the middle — a sophomore — that's their key. They beat St. Francis pretty good that night."

The Lions have a first round regional matchup against Wheeling to look forward to on March 5, and Antrim is aleady thinking about the Wildcats and their 16-5 record.

"We'll have a fairly good chance against Wheeling because they're not too big," Antrim said. "I saw them play Hersey and they were great that night, but I guess that was one of their best games all year.

"If we can play well in the Marmion game," Antrim continued, "we'll be in great shape for the regional."

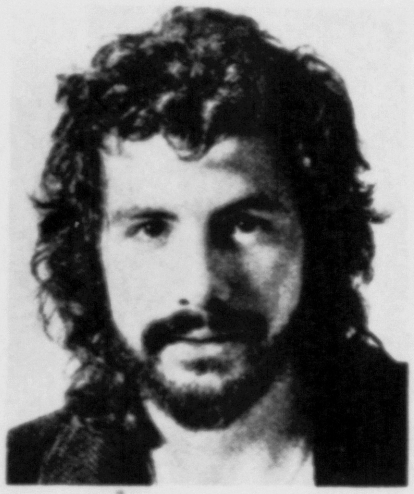
I just love Cat Stevens! Could you please print his picture and tell me all about him? Where can I write to him?

S.R.
Schaumburg



Cat Stevens

Born in July, 1948, Cat was given the name Stephen Demitri Georgiou. He grew up in London with art as his only real interest in school. So great was his liking for it that he attended Hammersmith College of Art for a year. While there, he began writing songs, played them for his friends and found that he had a potential audience. "Having been discovered, in the show-biz sense, by a cigar-smoking businessman who wanted Cat to star in films, Stevens was tossed into the ring at age 17."

Cat found he was mishandled and became depressed and let himself run down. It was at this time that he contacted tuberculosis and was forced to enter a sanitarium to recuperate. As bad as it was, the change of pace was just what Cat needed to cure his illness and help his career. He kept writing songs and upon his release he was given free reign over his own recording procedures. His career has been gathering momentum ever since.

Send your letters addressed to him in care of A & M Records, 1416 N. LaBrea Avenue, Los Angeles, Calif. 90028.

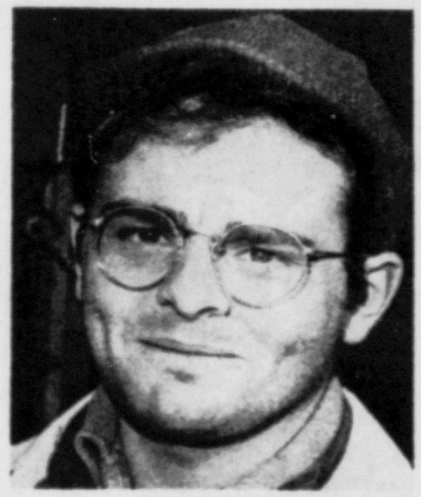
J.E.
Arlington Heights



Gary Burghoff

Gary, whose birthday is May 24th, was musically influenced by his parents. Having learned to play drums at 13, Burghoff, while still in high school, joined the Bud Wilber orchestra as a singer, drummer, and entertainer and toured with the group for three years. At the same time he learned drama.

A turning point in his career came with his being cast as the original Charlie in "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown." His performance impressed the producer of M*A*S*H, who later gave him a screen test and of course, Burghoff became Radar on the series.

The 5'6" actor is married to former Janet Gale. Gary has mail sent addressed to him in care of CBS-TV, 7800 Beverly Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif. 90036.
